NEW PRIORITY
ORDERS HELP
HOME BUILDERNON-RESIDENTIAL
PROJECTS CUT
27 PERCENT

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—The government slapped more drastic priorities on building materials for the lagging housing program tonight and ordered a 27 per cent slash in non-residential building.

This followed disclosure by Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small that he will gradually transfer virtually all his control over new construction, except industrial plants, to Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt.

The decisions—reached after Reconstruction Director John R. Steelman had refereed a dispute between the two officials—were announced jointly by Small and Wyatt, who termed them "drastic" and "sweeping." They take effect September 1.

Scarce Materials Held
Greater volumes of scarce materials, ranging from 75 per cent on sinks to 95 per cent on bathtubs, will be set aside by manufacturers and dealers for sale only to builders who hold the "HH," or housing priority.

These "set asides" compare with 60 per cent in most cases at present, and they must be held indefinitely for veterans' housing, instead of for 21 to 30 days.

Twenty-seven more materials, including stoves, linoleum and lighting fixtures, were added to the list of 25 already subject to the home builders' priority.

The goal, said the federal announcement, is to "bring about the completion of a great volume of houses and apartments before winter sets in."

The National Association of Home Builders, closing a two-day meeting with Wyatt, said the moves are "in line with what we've been advocating all along," but predicted that 200,000 to 300,000 partly finished dwellings will remain uncompleted unless "some real expediting is done."

Bottlenecks Listed
"We suggest and urge that Mr. Wyatt stop diverting his time and energy to long range social programs and perpetuation of the National Housing Agency," said a statement by the Builders' president, Joseph Meyerhoff of Baltimore.

The Association reported that of 7,734 housing units started before January 15, only 4,830 have been completed and that the average building time was seven and one-half months. It listed 16,701 units started since January, of which it said 2,049 have been completed in an average building time of six months.

It listed these bottlenecks, in order of importance: flooring, plumbing, gypsum lath, millwork, nails, soil pipe, doors, lumber, shingles, plaster, wallboard, and electrical material.

Meyerhoff accused the Federal Public Housing Administration of "hoarding" unnecessarily large quantities of surplus materials for its emergency shelter program to the detriment of private home builders. FPHA promptly issued a denial, stating that its purchases of surplus building supplies are "far less" than needed to complete its congressionally authorized program.

Bumper Crops May Cause Freight Car
Shortage This Fall

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—Reconversion Director John R. Steelman today ordered emergency action to prevent a threatened transportation crisis this fall due to an acute shortage of freight cars.

Steelman stated that the rising volume of industrial production and bumper farm crops are confronting the railroads with heavier loads than they carried at war-time peak. He said the Office of Defense Transportation reports that unless extraordinary measures are taken between 50,000 and 75,000 railcars of freight will be back up weekly this fall.

He announced the following steps will be taken:

1. Wherever feasible, cross country freight will be diverted from the rails to ships.
2. The OPA will promptly review any increased costs incurred by shippers in shifting to water transport and grant relief where necessary.

3. The Civilian Production Administration will speed up the flow of scarce materials needed to repair about 30,000 old freight cars and build 40,000 new ones this year.

4. The state department will seek quicker placement of foreign orders for freight cars to be built next year. Such a backlog, Steelman said, will encourage car manufacturers to speed up production of domestic orders.

5. ODT and the agriculture department will take joint action where perishable food crops are threatened by transportation bottlenecks. Shipments of tin cans, sugar and other essential supplies to west coast and midwestern canneries will be expedited up. Action will also be taken to increase the flow of export grain and coal.

6. ODT will encourage shippers and receivers to further shorten the turnaround time of cars by keeping shipping departments on a six day week and by using faster unloading methods.

7. ODT will tighten its regulations governing less-than-carload freight to force maximum use of all freight car space.

BALKAN DISPUTE
GETS U. N. AIRINGCouncil Table Seat For Albania Is Bitterly
Opposed By Greece

BY LARRY HAUCK
Lake Success, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The whole turbulent situation in the Balkans moved toward a full United Nations airing tonight as Greece and Yugoslavia demanded seats at the security council table for the debate over admitting Albania to the world agency.

The Greeks, already named in a Ukrainian complaint to the council charging them with fomenting war with Albania, have bitterly opposed Albania. The membership issue is first on the agenda for tomorrow's council meeting at 9:30 a. m. (CDT).

Pavle Lukin, acting chief of the permanent Yugoslav delegation to the U. N., said his government was renewing its request made last February when Yugoslavia sponsored the original Albanian application. Action on new members was put off at that time at the suggestion of the United States.

Both the United States and Great Britain have reserved their decisions on Soviet-sponsored Albania and Outer Mongolia and the latter has been directly opposed by China.

Trans-Jordan, Ireland and Portugal lack Russian approval and France has announced its intention of blocking Siam's application.

All membership bids are subject to the veto, which means that any of the Big Five can blackball at will.

Bruised Baby Boy
Policeman's Home

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP)—His face bruised as though the victim of a severe slapping, a six-month-old baby boy was found today on the porch of a police officer's home.

Dr. Richard Hardin at receiving hospital said the child was suffering from contusions on both sides of the face and on the right shoulder and abrasions on the chest and right eye. Its face was discolored and swollen.

The bruises, the doctor said, were "such as might have been caused by slapping." He added they apparently were inflicted recently.

Policeman Vincent Ugolini, at whose home the boy was left, said his wife was intrigued by the baby and "wanted to keep it."

State Turns Over
Lovely Isle Royale
For National Park

Isle Royale, Mich., Aug. 27 (AP)—The state of Michigan turned over its most distant outpost, lonely, lovely Isle Royale, to the people of the United States today.

The breath-takingly beautiful crag of land, 55 miles out in the blue water of Lake Superior, became a national park in a ceremony arranged aboard a barge anchored near the rugged shore line.

"This is a proud day in the history of Michigan," Gov. Harry F. Kelly said at the formal presentation.

Congressman Frank E. Hook of Ironwood, also representing the state, said the island fastness was valuable to the nation if only for its copper deposits.

"I am informed," Hook said, "that there is really enough copper right here that, if it were needed, it could actually furnish the needs of this nation during any crisis which might confront us—and because of this, I believe that it was a good bargain for the United States to take title to this beautiful island."

Accepting the island for the federal government, Undersecretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman expressed appreciation "to all those far sighted and generous men and women whose efforts have resulted in the creation of this new national park."

He termed the island a "much better than typical sample of American wilderness" as he added Isle Royale to a roster containing such names as Yellowstone, Yosemite, Glacier, Grand Canyon, Shenandoah and Big Bend.

Conservationists began a fight 25 years ago to secure national park status for the island.

Isle Royale is believed to have been first visited by White men in 1620. It belonged to the Indians until 1842 when it was purchased from the Chippewas.

The first copper mined in North America came from Isle Royale and by 1890 the island was attracting a trickling of summer visitors, lured by its fishing and its bracing air and spectacular scenery.

An estimated 121,000 acres were purchased by the federal government and Michigan ceded the remaining 133,000 acres of Isle Royale in 1940.

Chapman paid particular tribute to the late George E. Miller of the Detroit News "whose hopes have been carried on for years with unstinting devotion by Albert Stoll, Jr., the conservation editor of that newspaper."

Gov. Kelly cited the 1921 members of the state conservation commission, and the five original members of the Isle Royale Park Commission; James McNaughton of Houghton, Edsel Ford of Detroit, William H. Wallace of Saginaw, William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, and Harry Harper of Lansing. Only Harper and McNaughton are still living.

In his acceptance speech, Simmons said "I want to apologize for my unexpressed pain and the gravity on my vest." He said he would spruce up for the convention parade, saying he "liked to be dignified for the event."

Queen Polly promised her subjects: "I'm going to live up to everything I've said and spend the rest of my life looking after the welfare of hoboos."

The election, a highlight of Britt's annual hobo day, was conducted on a main street platform and attracted several hundred townspeople. The "hobos" prepared a Mulligan stew feast for all who wished to partake.

The water was so rough Mr. Truman spent most of the time in a sou-wester. Once he was almost thrown from chair on the deck of Manana the Second.

As a result of Rodionov's recent charges against the Greek press, two Athens morning newspapers, Acropolis and Ellikon Aima, went on trial today on charges of libel.

Both are monarchist newspapers.

HIGHER MEAT
CEILINGS MAY FACE SHOPPERREVIVAL OF DAIRY CONTROLS IS PREDICTED

BY EDWIN B. HAARINKSON
Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—The prospect of higher meat price ceilings than OPA planned confronted housewives tonight, while controls were removed from most baby foods, canned tomato prices were raised, and announcement was made that the sugar ration must remain as is through the first part of 1947.

On the other side, however, Price Administrator Paul Porter said he will "insist at my earliest possible opportunity that fluid milk and dairy products again be put under ceiling price."

Addressing a rally of OPA workers in New York, Porter predicted that "dairy prices will get out of hand." If they do, the way will be open for the decontrol board to order ceilings back on.

Sugar Supply Uncertain
The OPA announced that the sugar ration will remain at five pounds per ration book for the September-December period, with spare stamp 51 made valid beginning Sept. 1.

The current sugar stamp, spare No. 49, which was to have expired at the end of this month, will be valid through September. OPA said this extension results from local sugar shortages due to maldistribution caused by lack of boxcars.

Allocations must continue at five pounds per person every four months, OPA said, because of uncertainty of supplies from Cuba and Puerto Rico and shipments needed for famine stricken countries. The same sugar ration must continue during the first part of next year, OPA added, because the size of the Cuban sugar crop will not be known until late January.

Removal of price lids on baby and junior foods resulted from indications of an adequate supply, the agency said, a requirement for automatic decontrol under the new act. Included in the exemption from ceilings are pre-cooked dry cereals, strained and chopped fruits and vegetables, and similar products.

Ceilings will remain on products used in preparation of infant feeding formulas, OPA said, terming these "milk modifiers, such as dextrose, and malt preparations."

Up To Anderson
OPA attributed the increase in canned tomatoes to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who has the final word on them. Effective immediately, an increase of 14 cents a dozen No. 2 cans was ordered for processors. OPA said this eventually will cost consumers.

Anti-Soviet Articles
In Newspapers Bring
Diplomatic Crisis

Athens, Aug. 27 (AP)—Stephanos Stephanopoulos, acting foreign minister, announced today that Adm. K. K. Rodionov, Russian ambassador to Greece, had asked for a passport visa to enable him to leave Greece.

The acting foreign minister said yesterday that the Russian ambassador had registered a formal protest against anti-Soviet articles in certain Greek newspapers and the banning of Soviet films in some districts of Greece.

Greece accepted Rodionov's nomination as ambassador on Nov. 28, 1945, when diplomatic relations between the two nations were restored. The following day the Moscow press gave prominence to Greece's acceptance of the ambassador and to the warm tribute paid Rodionov by John Sophanopoulos, Greek foreign minister.

Marshal Tito, premier of Yugoslavia, recalled the Yugoslav minister to Greece, Isador Cankar, last Wednesday, but diplomatic relations between the two countries still are being maintained.

Cankar told Stephanopoulos his recall was prompted by attacks on Tito and the Yugoslav regime by sections of the monarchist press in Greece.

As a result of Rodionov's recent charges against the Greek press, two Athens morning newspapers, Acropolis and Ellikon Aima, went on trial today on charges of libel.

U. P. State Fair Gets Off To Bright Start;
Veterans' Day Today

Despite intermittent showers, the 13th annual Upper Peninsula State Fair got off to a bright start yesterday in the opening day of a thrill-packed six-day program.

The opening day attendance yesterday was very satisfactory, considering the threatening weather conditions, Harold Lindsay, fair secretary, reported. Official attendance figures are unavailable because there was a free gate all day yesterday but the peak attendance last evening was estimated at approximately 7,000.

Today is Veteran's Day at the Upper Peninsula Fair and all servicemen and women, as well as ex-servicemen and ex-servicewomen will be admitted to the opening matinee grandstand show without charge, provided they are in uniform. It is also Dickinson, Iron and Gogebic county day. Gladstone stores will be closed this afternoon to permit clerks in that city to attend the fair.

1,500 See Show
The brilliant Victory Cameo Vogues of 1946 was presented in front of the grandstand last night, despite adverse weather. The show, attended by approximately 1,500 patrons, was delayed for one hour because of rain and was concluded in a downpour.

The colorful revue, beautifully costumed and expertly directed, opened with the Cameo New York, a jitterbug number that drew spontaneous applause. Other portions of the revue included Cameo Oriental, featuring exotic dancing of the Far East; Cameo Temptation, depicting the struggle of evil vs. good; and was concluded with Cameo Parade, starting the entire cast.

The revue presented the Averyettes dance ensemble of 16 well trained cuties, the Donna Parker singers and Reo and Jardine, celebrated team of adagio and acrobatic dancers, with the Victory Cameo band providing the musical background.

Randolph Avery, talented musical director of the show, was master of ceremonies.

Between numbers of the Victory Cameo Vogues, the grandstand patrons were treated to a series of outstanding specialty acts, opening with the Gordon duo, a precision acrobatic number. Paul and Paulette, working on a bouncing net, drew thunderous applause for a performance of outstanding talent and precision.

Barton and Brady, pantomiming a pair of inebrates, provided the comedy touch of the evening and were recalled for several encores.

FORMER FLINT
MAYOR ON BOND

McKeighan Will Fight
Extradition At Miami Beach

Miami, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP)—William H. McKeighan, five times mayor of Flint, Mich., surrendered to Miami Beach police today and was released on $1,500 bond on a Michigan warrant charging him with conspiring to violate gambling laws there.

"I have already asked the governor (Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida) for a hearing on extradition," he said.

The bond was returnable in 30 days.

McKeighan was accompanied by his attorney when he walked into the police station shortly before 5 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time.

"I will fight extradition," he told police. "I am a citizen and taxpayer of Florida."

McKeighan said he was wanted in Michigan as a witness.

The 60-year-old former mayor said:

"I've been tried and acquitted seven different times. Last July I went to Flint and was indicted on charge of attempting to corrupt the liquor control commission. The judge threw it out before it reached the jury for lack of evidence."

"I am a citizen of Florida and I own hotel and apartment house property here. I also own drug stores and other property in Michigan."

"I know of nothing I can tell any grand jury in Michigan. I'm not guilty of any crime."

His attorney is William Pruitt of Miami.

At Tallahassee, Governor Caldwell's executive secretary, John Wigginton, said a hearing will be granted if extradition papers are received from the state of Michigan.

He added that McKeighan's lawyer had contacted the governor's office.

BABIES ILL ON SHIP
New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—The port of embarkation said today that nine GI's babies are ill aboard the army transport Zebulon Vance, scheduled to arrive tomorrow from Bremerhaven with 130 war brides and children.

The ship surgeon radioed that six infants are suffering from respiratory infections and three from gastro-intestinal conditions.

CRACK NAVAL FORCE VISITS
GREEK PORTSRED AMBASSADOR IN ATHENS ASKS FOR HIS PASSPORT

BY GRAHAM HOVEY
Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—The United States ordered its crack new carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and six other warships to the troubled eastern Mediterranean today in a significant gesture of friendship for Greece—just as the Russian ambassador there asked for his passport.

The lively diplomatic front also saw these developments:

1. The Polish embassy here issued a press statement protesting that an American note of August 19 constitutes "an infringement into Poland's sovereign rights and interference with her internal affairs." The note criticized the June 30 voting.

2. The board of governors of the World Bank and Monetary Fund invited Russia and six smaller nations to send observers to meetings here September, when steps will be taken to re-institute the institutions in operation.

These countries signed the Bret Woods agreements but have entered into full participation.

No Atomic Control
Unconnected with diplomatic but of interest in view of Russia's opposition to the American plan for international energy control was a speech Secretary of War Patterson, told key war department officials to make their defense plan, the basis that there is and no adequate control on their national level," until such Congress may rule otherwise.

On another phase of defense, Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small today a news conference that the wartime system of industrial mobilization can be put back into operation within 24 hours in case of an emergency.

The display of naval strength is billed officially as a "visit of courtesy." But diplomats noted that it will place American warships in the Aegean Sea across from Turkey and not far from the entrance to the Dardanelles, over which Moscow seeks a measure of control.

Moreover, it follows the action of the Ukrainian Soviet republic in filing a demand with the United Nations security council for action against Greece, claiming that country poses a threat to peace by alleged aggressive designs on Albania.

Tito Makes Promises
At the same time, Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson made it plain that this country expects Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to put into writing his oral assurances of last week that:

1. Yugoslavia "deplores" the forcing down by its fighter planes of American transport aircraft, with a resulting loss of American lives;

2. He has given his armed forces orders that henceforth no foreign planes are to be shot at over Yugoslav soil under any circumstances.

These developments were understood by Washington diplomats primarily because of their possible effect on this country's relations with Russia. The Soviet Union has sided with Yugoslavia in the

DOWNED AIRMAN MAY BE HUNTED Yugoslav Army Willing To Send Out 1000 Men If There Is Hope

BY GEORGE PALMER
Belgrade, Aug. 27 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson said today the Yugoslav army was willing to send out up to 1,000 men in a search tomorrow if medical tests left any hope that one of the five Americans shot down in flames Aug. 19 might still be alive.
American authorities sought incontrovertible proof of evidence that all five flyers had perished in the shooting down of their C-47 transport by Yugoslav fighters. Meanwhile sources close to the Ambassador reported the flyers' remains might be flown to Udine, Italy, in the embassy plane, with an escort of Yugoslav fighters as far as the Morgan line dividing Venezia Giulia.
(Allied headquarters in Caserta, Italy, said negotiations were completed for delivery of the remains, which would be brought across the Morgan line, probably tonight, at Aidissina, about halfway between Gorizia and Trieste.)
U. S. assistant military attache Lt. Col. Chester M. Stratton said the U. S. graves registration commission and Yugoslav doctors were applying chemical tests to bits of flesh found at the scene of the crash.

Petition To Revive Fair Employment Bill Is Proposed

Lansing, Aug. 27 (AP)—Four representatives of the Civil Rights Federation conferred today with Deputy Attorney General Foss O. Eldred on their proposal to initiate a fair employment practice bill in the next session of the legislature.
Eldred said he told the group, by Jack Raskin of Detroit, that the bill they must initiate would be signed by eight per cent of the people who vote for or in the November election days before the legislative session.
Eldred said that, because of time limitations, all bills must be introduced by November 6 and December 1.
Civil Rights group is proposed to circulate petitions asking legislature to consider a "equal employment rights" bill of race, color or creed. The bill must consider "any person" and if it is defeated, it will be submitted to the voters at the next general election. Eldred said no initiative bill had ever been introduced.
A state fair employment bill, similar to one adopted in New York State, was introduced in the 1945 legislature but died in committee.

Woman's Who Killed Baby Found Sane But Feeble-Minded

Paw Paw, Mich., Aug. 27 (AP)—A three-man panel of psychiatrists has found Mrs. Florence Jarvis, 24, charged with the first degree murder of her infant daughter, "sane but feeble-minded," it was announced today.
County Clerk Rex E. Martin said he had received a report from three Kalamazoo physicians who examined the woman after she pleaded guilty in Van Buren county circuit court July 19.
State Police Detective Victor Beck said Mrs. Jarvis told him following her arrest July 11 that she slapped the three-week-old child, stuck pins in its feet and shoved its head into a mattress because the child's crying "annoyed" her.

Lincolns Held Up By Cylinder Blocks

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP)—A shortage of cylinder blocks will close assembly lines of the Lincoln division of the Ford Motor Co. during the week beginning Labor Day, the company said today.
The shut-down will affect 2-800 plant workers. The company said the step is necessary to permit sufficient accumulation of cylinder blocks for possible uninterrupted production of the remainder of this year.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 27 (AP)—J. M. Baguley looked up from his job of polishing the car yesterday to find "Butch," his six-month-old cocker spaniel, playfully mouthing some greenbacks.

Baguley returned the wallet, which Neumann didn't know he had lost, and "Butch" got a bone as a reward for finding the money.

Scientist Declares Messages To Earth From Moon Possible

Pittsburgh, Aug. 27 (AP)—The technical possibility of moon-to-earth broadcasts which would give mankind information now only conjectured about the moon was advanced today by a scientist who was a Manhattan project representative at the second atomic bomb test at Bikini.
Of course, broadcasts from the moon first involve getting to the moon, and for that Dr. J. A. Hutcheson looked to the Army, which expects to build earth-to-moon rockets within 18 months.

CRACK NAVAL FORCE VISITS GREEK PORTS

transport plane incident and has been critical of the present Greek government.
The Navy announced that the Roosevelt's visit to Greece is prompted by the "great admiration of the Greek people" for the late President.
The carrier, accompanied by the light cruiser Little Rock and the destroyers Cone, New and Corry, will visit Piraeus, the port of Athens, from September 5 to 9. The destroyers Noa and Warington simultaneously will call at Salonika, farther up the Aegean Sea and nearest the Dardanelles.
May Go To Turkey
A terse additional statement that the Roosevelt might visit "other Mediterranean ports" before returning to home waters aroused new speculation that the carrier might put in at Istanbul or Smyrna in Turkey, which currently is involved with the Soviet Union in a dispute over control of the Dardanelles, connecting the Black Sea with the Mediterranean.
Adm. DeWitt C. Ramsey, acting chief of naval operations, told reporters the future movements of the warships are up to the state department, adding that "we go where the state department tells us."

Last week the United States took a stand against a Moscow proposal that Russia share the defense of the straits with Turkey.
At his news conference, Acheson declined to rule out the possibility that the United States still might attempt to summon Yugoslavia before the U. N. security council over the transport plane matter.
He indicated strongly, however, that if present direct negotiations with Yugoslavia are concluded satisfactorily, this country will not pursue the matter further.

Acheson reaffirmed that Tito's actions last week—in expressing sorrow over the incident and promising it would not recur—satisfied the demands made by the United States in an ultimatum.
He acknowledged that a written document from Tito to U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, dated August 23, did not confirm all the premier's oral assurances. Acheson said, however, that he hopes to get written confirmation.
On other foreign affairs Acheson made these points:

1. The U. S. has no way of checking reports that arms are being manufactured in the Russian zone of Germany because the Soviets to date have blocked creation of a four-power commission to investigate such matters in all four occupation zones.
2. The state department does not believe any American B-25 bombers, declared surplus by the Army, have been turned over to a Chinese airline, but an investigation into that published report has been ordered.
3. The state department obviously does not want to transfer combat material to China while the current virtual civil war between Chinese Nationalists and Communists is in progress.
4. The government has no plan to make public at present captured documents concerning the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, who was charged with Axis wartime connections and who now is figuring in the dispute over additional Jewish immigration to Palestine.
The war department reported that 25 army officers from the European and Mediterranean theaters are in Athens to act as unofficial observers in Sunday's plebiscite in Greece.

The Greek government asked the state department for American observers to assist the Allied mission remaining to watch the plebiscite.

NEW PRIORITY ORDERS HELP HOME BUILDER

the materials earmarked for housing will be purchasable by other priority claimants—those holding the military "MM" rating, the re-conversion "CC" bottleneck-breaker, and the emergency AAA priority.

2. Better compliance will be required, through rulings that complete records must be held for government inspection.
3. Along with the 27 per cent cut in non-housing construction to a total of $35,000,000 weekly will come a "much more rigorous" investigation into the need for store, office, factory and other non-residential building.

4. Seventy-five per cent of all soft wood lumber imports must be reserved for priority buyers.
5. Stern controls will be applied to cast iron soil pipe. At least 93 per cent must be made in sizes suitable for homes. Moreover, it may not be used for anything except sewage disposal systems in buildings.

Freighter Rescues Boys In Motorboat On Lake Michigan

Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—Two boys attempting to sail from Holland, Mich., to Milwaukee, Wis., in a 16-foot motorboat were rescued by a Canadian freighter today after drifting without a compass for a day and a night.

They were Rod Black, 17, of 910 Bell Caire ave., E. Grand Rapids, Mich., and William Akers, 17, Knoxville, Tenn. They said they put out from Holland yesterday bound for Milwaukee in Akers' motor boat.

The craft carried 21 extra gallons of gasoline, but no food. When they discovered their compass had broken they began to seek aid from passing ships, but it was not until this morning that they were able to attract attention from the S. S. Lavalde 53 miles off Holland.

The freighter brought the boys and the boat, all unhurt, to a Chicago coast guard station.

Remnants Of GAR Approve Plans For 1947 Encampment

Indianapolis, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Grand Army of the Republic will hold an encampment next year. That, the organization's 99-year-old commander-in-chief Hiram R. Gale of Seattle, Wash., said tonight was the "unanimous opinion" of the 11 members attending the GAR's 80th annual meeting.

Gale, who said he had polled the members, added: "The members feel the encampment should go right on until the last man."

And to back up the decision, the GAR has $5,500 given it last night by allied organizations, to finance headquarters next year.

also was a popular performer with a fast routine of acrobatic feats on a high, swinging rope.

The crowning achievement of the night and the finale to the show was the high wire performance of the American Eagles, working in a driving rain and high wind without benefit of net. The aerialists topped their show with a three high pyramid balanced on the slender wire, the two men riding bicycles along the wire while the young woman perched on a bar resting on the shoulders of the daring cyclists. The performance drew a tremendous ovation.

On Saturday the WLS Barn Dance group will take over the entertainment at the afternoon and evening shows and Sunday Jimmie Lynch and His Death Dodgers will ride the track, both afternoon and evening.

Judging of exhibits will begin today in many of the departments.

Lakes Strike-Breakers Brought In From Deep Water, CIO Union Says

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP)—The CIO National Maritime Union claimed today to have evidence today that AFL deep water seamen are being brought from the Atlantic coast in an effort to break the 13-day-old Great Lakes shipping strike.

NMU strike headquarters made public an affidavit which it said was made voluntarily by Nicholas Romano, a member of the Seafarers International Union (AFL), in which Romano said he was one of 15 seamen flown from New York and put aboard a strike-bound freighter at Toledo.

The Maritime union identified the ship as the SS W. G. Pollock of the Midland Steamship Co.

The affidavit charged that AFL deep water seamen were recruited in a New York Hiring Hall Aug. 23, flown to Detroit, transported to Toledo and escorted through NMU picket lines by police of the Ohio city.

Long Prison Term Given Bugs Moran For $10,000 Holdup

Dayton, O., Aug. 27 (AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, former Chicago gangster, and two accomplices were sentenced today to 10-to-25-year prison terms for a $10,000 holdup shortly after federal charges of bank robbery had been filed against them by FBI agents.

Common Pleas Judge Robert U. Martin imposed sentence on Moran, Virgil (Doc) Summers of Henderson, Ky., and Al Fouts of Dayton and ordered their removal to Ohio penitentiary in Columbus within five days.

The sentences followed Judge Martin's denial of new trial motions for the trio which was convicted by a jury last night of robbing a tavern employee of $10,000 last June.

The bank robbery charges against Moran, Summers, Fouts and two others were filed with U. S. Commissioner Charles Ozias. FBI agents accused them of breaking into the National Bank of Ansonia, O., the night of last Nov. 9 and looting the safe and safety deposit boxes.

Price Of Gasoline Goes Up Half Cent Effective Thursday

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP)—A further increase in the retail price of gasoline—this time a half cent a gallon—will become effective in Michigan Thursday.

The boost results from a raise in the wholesale price of gasoline and will be passed on to the public, said Rankin Peck, executive director of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Association of Michigan.

Regular gasoline costs 20 cents a gallon now and ethyl gasoline 22 cents, Peck said.

Both grades of gasoline recently advanced a cent a gallon.

Peck added some more bad news for motorists.
"In the very near future," he said, "dealers plan a price increase of their own to cover increased costs of operation, principally labor."

ers two cents more a can, in addition to a two-cent a can increase granted recently when subsidies were removed.

Aides of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who has the final say-so on farm prices under the new law, reported that he favors increases of $2 or more per hundred pounds on cattle and hogs in the interest of greater production. If he insists on this, the OPA will have to comply.

Dr. John R. Steelman, reconversion and stabilization director, sought to work out a compromise by a series of long-distance telephone calls with Anderson, who is vacationing in New Mexico, and Price Administrator Paul Porter, in New York for an OPA employees rally.

Agriculture department experts predicted that unless livestock ceilings are fixed higher than those of June 30, farmers will quit feeding and fattening cattle and hogs with the huge corn crop and other grains that were allowed to remain free from price ceilings.

This would result in a serious shortage of meats later this winter or next spring, if lightweight livestock continue to move to market instead of to feeding lots.

Australians Clash With Soviets At Meeting In Paris

Paris, Aug. 27 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov renewed a bitter attack on Australia today, charging it with bias and obstruction, and an Australian delegate accused the Russians of "lying" and "intimidation," as the two nations clashed in violent debates in two peace conference commissions.

The Russian foreign minister in his new attack implied Australia was aided by some other nation in what he said were the delegation's attempts to upset decisions of the council of foreign ministers, and said these attempts were aimed against the interests of the Soviet Union.

CATTLE JUDGING TODAY AT FAIR

Effect Of War Evident In Reduced Number Of Entries

Starting at 9 o'clock this morning judges will begin their work in determining winners among the dairy and beef breeds of cattle entered at the U. P. State Fair, with judging of the 4-H Club entries scheduled for 9 a. m. Thursday.

The judges are Charles Brace of Lone Rock, Wis., field man for the Holstein-Friesian association, who will judge the Holstein entries; and A. Bergerant of Madison, Wis., dairy specialist with University of Wisconsin, who will judge Guernseys, Jerseys and Brown Swisses.

Cattle of both dairy and beef breeds were still being received yesterday afternoon, and as soon as they were unloaded their owners began readying them in preparation for the judges.

George S. McIntyre, dairy specialist at the experimental station at Chatham, who is superintendent of the dairy breeds, said the effect of the war and the period of years when there was no fair is evident in the reduced number of entries. The stock being exhibited, however, was among the finest to come to Escanaba, and interest in the contests is expected to develop in succeeding years.

Following the judging in the open class this morning, and the judging of animals entered by 4-H Club members Thursday morning, Brace and Bergerant will also judge the 4-H cattle in the inter-county parade in front of the grandstand which will take place Thursday at 1 o'clock. This day has been designated 4-H Club Day at the fair.

John Mac Innis of the Soo is supervisor in the dairy breeds section, with McIntyre, Gail Bowers of Menominee, Joseph Helman of Manistique, R. H. Kaven of Marquette, Lester Walcutt of Menominee, Clarence Walker of the Soo, Dick Johnston and E. A. Wenner of Escanaba as superintendents. In the beef breeds section Grev Knaus of Cornell, Lytle Abel of the Soo, and Henry Wylie of Escanaba are superintendents.

QUITE A FEW NEWSPAPERS — The severe shortage of newsprint paper that plagued the nation's newspapers during the war is still almost as bad as ever, but pulp mills are making frantic efforts to relieve the deficit. Typical of what's going on is the photo above, showing a huge stockpile of paper pulp logs at Hull in the Gatineau River district of Quebec, being wetted down to lessen fire hazard. Before the war, three out of every eight newspapers in the world were printed on Canadian paper. (NEA Photo.)

Flickers Gather In U. P. Before Autumn Flights

The open glades and natural meadows of the Upper Peninsula's forests and fields, will see vast "crowds" or flocks of flickers these days of early Autumn. The Flicker, one of the large woodpeckers, in common with many birds, retired to the isolated spots for a brief "convention" before migration times arrives. Probably after the duties of family rearing are over, the birds are glad of the moulting period when they are not so lively and noisy as during the mating time and all during the summer. The Flicker is not a timid bird during the summer and may nest in a hollow limb in your shade tree or orchard. He feeds from the ground and ants are his favorite dish.

During the season just passed, a village housewife found two very young birds and she suspected that the mother had fallen victim to air rifles or sling shots. She saw the birds in the same spot for two or three days, and she finally brought them into her home and fed them finely ground hamburger. The little "bug-lovers" really "went for" the hamburger and they stayed around the place and dined on fresh meat until old enough to shift for themselves.

Robins and many other birds retire in flocks during Autumn but none are so conspicuous as the big "yellow hammer."

The fringed gentian, once plentiful in the State, is one of the really rare wild flowers in many sections today. Upper Michigan, in many sections bordering Lake Michigan has the fringed blue gentian in fairly abundant numbers. The fringed gentian is really one of Mother Nature's most beautiful flowers and is famed in poetry. The closed blue gentian is more plentiful than the fringed and it is a very handsome flower, too. Growing in low moist spots it often shares the same bed with its more delicate sister. The gentian replenishes itself from seed, and when the blooms are plucked or destroyed, the seeds do not develop and ripen to scatter for new plants.

The shores of Lake Michigan along US-2 are usually decorated with patches of fringed gentian but few of the flowers can be seen by the casual passer-by on the highway.

Growing in the same type of soil as the fringed and closed gentian is found the turtlehead or snakehead, a rich creamy white flower with a bloom which really looks a little like the head of a very small turtle, except that the blossom is delicate and pale in color.

SCOUTS DELIVER FAIR MESSAGES

Ten Boys From Upper Peninsula Giving Public Service

Ten Boy Scouts from the several districts of the Hiawathaland Council in the Upper Peninsula this week are offering a public service at the U. P. State Fair at Escanaba by delivering the many messages to persons in various sections of the fair grounds. The messenger service is directed by S. N. Bradford, Escanaba, executive of the Red Buck district, who said yesterday the Scouts welcomed the opportunity to be of service.

The ten Scouts are Bob Bergdahl, Atlantic Mine; John Balai, Marquette; Fred Swanson, Ishpeming; Bud Jarvela, Calumet; Darrell Anderson, Niagara; Melvin Kangas, Kingsford; Ralph Lohr and Dick Zabelka, Sault Ste. Marie; and Dick Prass of Gladstone.

Average of the 10 boys is 15, and they are sleeping at the fair grounds in five double-bed tents. Their meals are eaten downtown. The boys receive the messages from the central office under the grandstand, and deliver them to persons in the exhibition buildings, livestock barns and other sections of the fair grounds.

In the exhibition building the Boy Scouts of the Hiawathaland Council have a display depicting the three phases of Scouting—the Cub program, Scouting, and Senior Scouting. The messenger boys are also assisting with the exhibit.

State Fair Highlights

PEOPLE LOVE FLOWERS—Mrs. J. E. Byrns, superintendent of the floriculture department at the fair, "If they didn't," she continued, "they would never take the trouble to do as one woman did who entered a large bouquet of gladioli in our fairy land garden. She had to take the bus from her home town to Escanaba, and carried the gladioli and a basket to display them in with her." Mrs. Byrns pointed to the basket of pink flowers. They stood all of four feet high. "The lady arrived here tired but triumphant, although the most she can hope for in premiums is the price of her bus fare."

THE CORN IS RIPE—All of the vegetables at a fair are not there for premium purposes. Take corn, for instance, which was the subject of a barker at one of the midway concessions was talking about. "Step right up folks. Only a quarter—quarter of a dollar—step right up. Comfortable seats for everybody and your money goes to a good cause—to the poor house—we take it home with us. Step right up! Only one quarter—just enough to pay for the wear and tear on the corn—step right up!"

WATCH OUT, BOYS—Livestock, especially the big beef breeds, fascinated the crowd as they were being unloaded into one of the cattle barns at the fair grounds. "Step back, step back! Somebody might get hurt," warned the man in charge of the unloading. A bull in the truck belled out angrily. Then he was led out, docile as a lamb, and apparently frightened by the crowd. The crowd laughed.

RAIN—A light sprinkle of rain early yesterday afternoon sent the U. P. State Fair patrons scurrying for cover, but the shower lasted only a few minutes. It was insufficient to dampen the ardor of an enthusiastic opening day crowd at the fair. Last minute touches were given to the various exhibits yesterday and by nightfall virtually everything was set up and doing business.

HEY, KIDS!—Candy cotton, the pink lacy stuff that symbolizes the carnival spirit, is proving as popular as ever at the fairgrounds. Kiddies particularly are taking a fancy to the sticky stuff, spun sugar that quickly melts in your mouth.

LIVESTOCK—City folks seldom get a chance to see the horses and cattle that play such an important part in Upper Peninsula agriculture, so it wasn't surprising to note the large crowd of wild-eyed youngsters who gathered around the cattle barns. The kids particularly enjoyed the unloading of the bulls yesterday afternoon.

THE DUCK—The Army Recruiting station's amphibious vehicle, commonly referred to as a duck, is getting a big play with the kids at the state fair. A half a hundred youngsters pile onto the machine and are taken for a spin around the fairgrounds, all for free. The Army abandoned its plan to drive the machine into water because of the danger of accidents.

WITH AN ESCORT—A band of Gypsies who arrived in Escanaba for the U. P. State Fair are not here any more, in fact they were not here when the fair opened. Sheriff William E. Miron and Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer agreed that the best place for the dark-skinned fortune tellers was somewhere else, so they were given an official escort south to the county line—and told to keep moving. "We'll have enough headaches this week without them," the officers said.

SHORT STORY—This is about a blonde, a .25 caliber automatic and a couple of carnival employees. All were involved in a dispute Monday night in a downtown hotel bar. Police said the girl claimed the gun was stolen from her jacket pocket, and strongly suspected one of her three boy friends of the theft. The "carnies" were arrested for being disorderly and yesterday were fined in justice court. Police found the gun in an empty lot in the 1200 block of Ludington street. It was not made clear why the blonde carried a pistol and she was released yesterday.

Total Of 130 Vets Apply For Housing In 26 Local Units

If Escanaba were getting five times as many of the government housing units that are being erected here now on the site of the old city brewery, it still wouldn't be enough to handle all of the veterans' applications already received. Some 130 veterans and their families, all more or less badly in need of living quarters, have applied for the 26 units being set up here.

It was believed earlier that a few more units could be secured but City Manager Art Aronson said this week that the entire government allotment of homes for this region has been distributed and no more will be available.

The local housing commission charged with allotting space in the 26 double-unit homes here will meet early next week and then will probably determine which of the applicants are most badly in need of housing. Atty. Jack Erickson, chairman of the commission, reports. The rental to be charged for the units will probably also be determined at that meeting which will be attended by a government housing representative.

Apathetic, But—

ONLY 123 votes were cast in the first election to name five trustees of the newly consolidated Bark River and Harris school district. Only a slightly larger number turned out to the polls at an earlier election when the two districts were combined.

The public apathy toward this matter is quite difficult to interpret, unless it was an indication that the people of Bark River and Harris townships had the fullest confidence in the community leaders who espoused the school consolidation movement. It also reveals an absence of political feuding between adjoining townships, separated by the Delta-Menominee county line. This is all to the good.

Regardless of the interest shown by the people in the two elections, the fact remains that the school consolidation project is an important one. Bark River and Harris are two thriving agricultural communities, and their children are entitled to the best educational facilities that can be provided for them. By pooling their tax resources, the two townships should be able to carry out their plans to establish a consolidated high school, which will be well equipped and manned to give their boys and girls an educational program that will compare favorably with that offered in much larger communities.

European Rift Widens

THERE are many vast, fundamental differences between the Soviet Union of Russia and the United States and one of the most significant is the controlled media of propaganda and information in Russia as compared with the American free press. When the Russian newspapers or radio attack foreign governments, the attacks obviously are inspired by the Communist authorities in Moscow, because nothing is published or broadcast in Russia that differs from the official viewpoint.

It is well to remember this in reading about the vicious attacks in Russian newspapers and from Soviet radios on the American policy in eastern Europe.

The Russians continue to prate about the violation of Yugoslav border territory by American planes flying peacefully between Austria and Italy, as though a terrible wrong had been committed, although the Soviets themselves have been shooting rockets across Swedish territory for weeks. Moreover, the Reds remain silent about these violations of Swedish territory.

Yugoslavia, under the tight military dictatorship of Marshal Tito, a Red stooge, is working hand in glove with Moscow towards a policy that makes the peace of Europe extremely difficult, if not impossible, to attain. Yugoslavia's extravagant claim of $1,300,000,000 in reparations from Italy alone is a case in point. The Moscow government, of course, is backing Tito to the hilt.

The obvious intent is to thoroughly discourage American participation in European affairs with the hope that we will withdraw and leave the field to the Russians to spread the Communist domination over most of the European continent.

Free Chest X-Rays

PERSONS who have been intending to be examined for tuberculosis but have never gotten around to it are offered an opportunity to obtain that long-delayed X-ray picture at the U. P. state fair this week.

The Michigan department of health has brought its mobile X-ray unit to the fairgrounds, with a complete staff of technicians, and will be able to accommodate 500 persons daily. If you have been wanting to get an examination, here is your chance. Taking of the X-ray picture will require only a few minutes' time and the service is provided free of charge.

The secret of defeating the scourge of tuberculosis is in its early detection. Tuberculosis is caused by a germ, and anyone exposed to the germ may get the disease, regardless of age. One of the reasons many of the deaths occur among people of 40 years and over may be that the disease was not discovered early enough for treatment to be undertaken successfully.

There would be fewer deaths from tuberculosis if the disease were always discovered in its early stage. And it can be discovered before the outward symptoms appear by means of a chest X-ray.

Wants A Bridge

THE Sault Ste. Marie News approves with reservations of a recent Press editorial, urging the completion of prewar plans to complete the causeway and dock project at St. Ignace to speed up ferry movements at the Straits of Mackinac.

The News raises the question, "Why stop there?" It believes only a bridge or tunnel will be a permanent solution to the Straits of Mackinac transportation problem.

During the 30s when the nation was engaged in many public works projects to provide jobs for the unemployed, boosters of Sault Ste. Marie waged a vigorous campaign for the straits bridge project. Their efforts were not altogether futile. A rather extensive survey of the straits area was made and the causeway was built, with the thought in mind that first it would be used to shorten the water distance across the straits and later utilized as the approach to the bridge.

The war put an end to civil works projects, however. Quite likely, they will be at it again as soon as they figure the opportune time has arrived. There is no denying that a bridge, linking the two peninsulas, would be a boon to the tourist industry, and the building of the huge structure would furnish many jobs, if anyone is interested in that angle of it.

Drive Carefully

THE past week has seen more than the usual number of automobile accidents and reckless driving cases on the police blotter, but the situation is likely to be worse this week.

Highways converging into Escanaba will be heavily laden with motorists enroute to the Upper Peninsula State Fair. Streets will be congested, particularly Ludington street and 23rd street near the fairgrounds.

Under such conditions, there is no excuse for speedy driving, weaving in and out of traffic, and other forms of recklessness. Drive carefully this week, and every week thereafter.

Other Editorial Comments

BRITAIN'S BABY BOUNTY

(Grand Rapids Herald)

Public agencies in Great Britain have been concerned for many years with prospects of population decreases in the decades to come. The enormous losses of two World Wars within a quarter of a century has had a marked effect in lessening propagation of the race. Added to that, a constant tightening of economic pressure has brought a decline in the birth rate among all classes.

So Britain, fearful of the consequences of fewer people to carry the burdens of the future, has set up a baby bounty under the provisions of the Family Allowance Act, which has recently gone into effect. This grants five shillings a week for each child except the eldest up to the age of 16, and this is said to be only the beginning; more free meals, maternity allowances and other services are to follow. This is not a charity measure. This "bonus" is available to rich and poor alike.

The baby bounty may relieve some of the economic pressure upon large families, and it may help to produce a healthier and better fed crop of children. However, if it reflects, as it seems to do, a continued dependence upon Government it is bound to have a debilitating effect upon the people and upon the Nation.

For our part, we think that self-reliance and a steadily rising standard of living will produce a stronger race and a better civilization than will a Government dole.

WOO THE CUSTOMERS

(Muncie, Ind., Press)

The ownership of a new car, nowadays, not only excites envy but suspicion. Those who can't buy them think those who can have bribed the dealers. But the day is coming when salesmen will work as hard while talking you into buying one as you are now talking to the dealer to induce him to sell you one. The wise seller of anything nowadays is the one who seeks to make friends for the lean days somewhere ahead.

One who saves of his substance in time of plenty to be prepared for the time of poverty which he hopes never will come, cannot be fooled, whatever happens. And making new customers while you still have little to sell is the best way to ride out any business storm that may blow your way. Fortunately most businessmen support that view.

THERE'LL BE NO ESCAPE

(Grand Rapids Herald)

Happy victims of telephonitis, whose antic humor impels them to call up everybody they can think of on any pretext or even without provocation, will be delighted to know that science is making their simple pastime more convenient and less time-consuming.

The day may not be far distant when they will be able to reach an unfortunate friend not only at his home or office or, if his car is equipped with radio telephone, on the highway; they soon may be enabled to call him out of the theater, off the golf course, or away from the ball game even though the score may be tied with two out and bases loaded in the last of the ninth.

The Federal Communications Commission has just authorized, on an experimental basis, a new "radio-paging" service, to be started in New York. The subscriber will carry a portable receiver about one and a half times the size of a cigarette package, and from time to time will be expected to press the instrument to his ear. If he hears his assigned code number, somebody's trying to get him. But from the description at hand, he apparently won't know who wants to talk to him until he hurries to the nearest telephone.

The idea, we fear, has possibilities.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Warfare being what it is today, the beating of swords into ploughshares is an enormously complicated business. Take, as a prime example, the two pipelines built by the government during the war, at a cost of $146,000,000, to move oil and aviation gasoline to the eastern seaboard.

Those lines — the Big Inch and the Little Big Inch — were two vital arteries. As the climax of D-day drew near, they poured a continuous river of oil and gasoline into the terminals at Philadelphia and Linden, N. J.

But when the war ended, the clamor of conflicting economic interests began immediately. Even though Petroleum products were still scarce on the eastern seaboard, the pipelines were closed down while the echoes of the V-J day celebration still sounded. That was thanks to pressure from the big oil companies.

—CHANCE FOR MORE PROFIT—

At the same time a barrage of propaganda was turned on, all of it to the effect that Big Inch and Little Big Inch were white elephants which no one would conceivably want to buy. In business and oil journals, stories appeared saying that the best the government could hope to do would be to keep the 1340 miles of Big Inch and the 1475 miles of Little Big Inch in stand-by condition to be used in event of another emergency.

The oil companies didn't want the pipelines sold and operated for the simple reason that there would be more profit, or so it seemed at the time, if oil and gas were shipped from Texas by company-owned tankers. The war shipping administration had set up some very fancy tanker deals which would have made it possible to turn back an old tanker to the government in exchange for a new one and get an allowance of one old one of considerably more than it had cost.

Moreover, the anti-trust division of the department of justice had stepped into the pipeline situation. The D. of J. had compelled the companies to sign a consent decree under which it was stipulated that shipper-owners should get a return of not more than 7 per cent on the money they had put into pipelines. That was a far cry from the 25 per cent and up of the good old days. And, incidentally, the FBI is now conducting an investigation to make sure the companies are living up to the terms of the decree.

—MINERS UNION OPPOSED—

So the companies wanted Big Inch and Little Big Inch quietly buried. So also did powerful political forces aligned with coal. John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers huffed and puffed at this alleged threat to the miners' livelihood. The National Coal Association did likewise.

They put yards of testimony into hearings before a senate committee. Estimates were offered showing that if the two pipelines were converted to the use of natural gas, they could carry 155 billion cubic feet of gas which would replace 5,000,000 to 15,000,000 tons of coal. The estimates of the amount of coal to be displaced depended entirely on who made them.

Converted to gas, the two pipelines could supply the total market for manufactured gas in the east and still leave a lot left over for new gas users. Here, however, an important consideration entered in. In the careful policy worked out by the surplus property administration, it was specified that the lines would "be vitally necessary" in another emergency.

Therefore they should be sold, if at all possible, to carry oil. If they were used for gas, with industry and householders dependent on the supply, no speedy switch-over could be made in the event of another war.

Just the other day, 16 bids for Big and Little Big Inch were solemnly opened. These bids range from $70,000,000 to $135,000,000. Several of the bids are from companies that would use the lines to transport oil. Therefore, in spite of all the white elephant propaganda and all the political pressure to keep the big pipes buried, it appears the government will come out of this deal in fairly good shape.

The real property disposal board of the war assets administration will not act on the bids for at least a week or two. During this time, of course, the pressures will continue. But it is hard to see how any funny business can be pulled off at this late date.

With Congress and the newspapers picking the bones of surplus property scandals involving comparatively small sums, it seems to me important to record that this very large transaction has been handled effectively in the public interest. And it might so easily have gone the other way.

one senses the tiredness which must always be his. However, there is not the slightest trace of self-pity in the matter-of-fact utterances of this man of simple dignity. Nor does he dramatize himself, as a lesser person might be tempted to do. As a matter of fact, on the broadcast checked for this article, General Wainwright made no mention at all of his tragic defenses of Bataan and Corregidor, of the shameful march of death, or of the travail of his years in a Japanese prison camp.

Pronunciation, colloquial. That is to say, he speaks in accents that are informal and conversational, rather than in the polished phrases of the professional speaker. However, these two mispronunciations were noted: "pre-vide" for provide, and "prog-ram" for program.

Score: Voice, 20; enunciation, 18; style, 25; pronunciation, 21. Total, 84. Rating, very good.

Next week, Herbert Bayard Swope. Readers' nominations for these Speech Portraits are invited. Thanks for the many you have sent. But please do not submit the names of local broadcasters. Only those with nation-wide audiences are acceptable for these articles.

Maybe So, But He's Been Around a Long Time

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

AN ALL-STARRED TIME—Mr. and Mrs. Thor Reque of Manistiquette have returned to their home following a weekend in Chicago, where they had attended the All-Star game.

That was the way the item might read, but there is a story of today's traveling conditions connected with it.

The Reques drove to Escanaba Friday morning, returned to the North Western station and caught the first train north, which took them as far as Green Bay. From there they took the streamliner to Escanaba, arriving here early Sunday morning, and then drove in their car to their home in Manistiquette.

They got home about 4 a. m. Sunday, never having had a chance to rest since they left for Chicago at 6 a. m. Friday. Reque, former football coach, is Manistiquette recreation director and high school teacher.

Manistiquette—Owing to the absence of the prosecuting attorney, no charges have been filed as yet against Charles Litchfield, 21, and Cecil Litchfield, 17, two Gulliver boys who are held at the county jail here for attempting to shoot their father, Francis Litchfield, while he was asleep.

Manistiquette—A product of the John N. Schuster beagle kennels here recently won the highest possible honors at the St. Louis specialty dog show. The beagle hound was sold by Mr. Schuster, following the last Chicago show, and is now owned by a resident of Moline, Ill.

Indianapolis, Ind.—C. W. Lambole of Escanaba today was eliminated from the western open golf championship tournament being held at the Indianapolis Highland country club, when he turned in a card of 89 today in the second round.

Miss Elaine Flagstad left yesterday morning for Chicago where she will attend the Grand Hospital School of Nursing.

the rains came at well-spaced intervals, and the berries are plump, flavorful and abundant. Some people (particularly those with artificial dentures) class blackberries and thistles together. They find both equally irritating, because the blackberry seeds have a way of hiding under their plates.

Blackberries do have a flavor, however, not duplicated by any other berry. Served fresh with sugar and cream, as pie filling, or made into jams or jellies, the blackberry carries its distinctive flavor unimpaired, and is reminiscent of the late summer sun, the crisp nights and woody fields that give it character.

THE KILLER—Although less dramatic, and certainly less publicized, rheumatic fever is as serious a disease among children as infantile paralysis, says John Gray, Lansing, of the Michigan department of health education division. This comment was made in a discussion of the current polio scare in the country, which is certainly not of epidemic proportions in Michigan.

What health authorities have commented on is a situation in which polio receives the lion's share of public attention, and is fought with funds willingly contributed. Unfortunately there are other serious diseases which do not receive this attention. Rheumatic fever is one of them.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Albright of this city are the parents of a daughter, born Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Albright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Voight at Daggett.

At an early fall wedding of lovely appointments which took place Wednesday morning, Verna Marie Stockemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stockemer, 302 South 15th street, became the bride of Roy T. Lindstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindstrom, 217 North 19th street.

Application has been made to the Works Progress Administration for approval of a project for the construction of a No. 3 type barracks for a state police post in Gladstone. It was announced yesterday by Oscar G. Olander, state commissioner of public safety.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DEBS MEYERS

(Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by several distinguished guest columnists—Today's by Debs Meyers, former Associate Editor of Yank, The Army Weekly, one of the most promising young writers to come out of World War Two.)

Washington—The civilian went before the army doctors, took off his clothes, feeling silly; jiggered, stooped, squatted, put some blood in a bottle, became a soldier.

He learned how to sleep in the mud, tie a knot, kill a man.

He learned how to sleep in the mud, tie a knot, kill a man. He learned how to sleep in the mud, tie a knot, kill a man. He learned how to sleep in the mud, tie a knot, kill a man.

Maybe he was white or black or yellow or red, and if he was on the line it didn't make much difference because a soldier on the line was so dirty you couldn't tell his color anyway.

Maybe he huddled at night in a hole dug in jagged coral or clammy sand and prayed: "God, let me get hit tomorrow but not so bad, so I can get out of this." Maybe he didn't fight at all. Maybe he built latrines in Mississippi or cranked a mimeograph machine in Manila, talking chicken, knowing that you can't kill the enemy with a shovel or book at more than ten paces; still wanting to go home.

He was often bored; he wasn't always brave; most times he was scared.

—VETERANS VARY—

Maybe he was young, like 20-year-old Ed Halpin, who landed at Normandy, H-hour, D-day, crawled on his belly up the beach and said: "Dammit, no matter what place the army picks to put soldiers, it always picks a place that looks like Oklahoma." Or maybe he wasn't so young, like Jake Privett, a 37-year-old Pfc. who was killed in the battle of Luxembourg and left a wife and five kids back in Blytheville, Ark.

Or maybe he's just a memory in a photo album now, or a dogtag stuck on a piece of wood near a tiny town whose name you can't pronounce. Or maybe half his face was torn away and he's ashamed to walk down the streets any more because other people are whole and he's not.

Or maybe he came through all right. Maybe no one ever shot at him. Maybe he wonders why he was in the army—what he did. There was John Padgett, a rifleman from the Blue Hills behind Chattanooga, who squirted tobacco juice on a bunker of the Siegfried line and said: "Beats hell out of me what I'm doing here except I always did kinda have an itch to pat my behind at that fellow Hitler."

—DEFEATED FASCISTS—

Maybe he didn't know what Fascism was—maybe he did. The G. I. did not destroy Fascism. But he helped defeat the Fascists and he took away their guns.

He was part of an army that left its bootprints on three continents, a hundred islands—deep in history. With his allies he saved the world, and hoped to God he'd never have to do it again.

He had learned the ache of loneliness, the ache of exhaustion, the kinship of misery. He had learned how to sleep in the mud, tie a knot, kill a man.

And, having learned all this, if he got through all right the soldier came home and took off his clothes, feeling silly; jiggered, stooped, squatted, put some blood in a bottle, became a civilian.

—DEMAND RESPECT—

As a former enlisted man on Yank, the Army Weekly, I have just finished helping edit a book, called "Yank: The G. I. Story of the War," to be published next spring. With the words above I tried in the book to describe the man who went into the army and the man who went out. I don't think he has changed much.

Except he may have learned that a man's color, which didn't mean anything on the line, means something in South Carolina, where a former soldier's eyes were gouged out with a policeman's club because the former soldier was guilty of being born black.

Or maybe after fighting for democracy he thought it should be practiced in his own back yard, and maybe that is why he took things in his own hands in Athens, Tenn.

Maybe he cannot understand why a country which can make unbelievable things like atomic bombs and level whole islands to make airfields cannot level slums or build houses for people who do not have a place to live.

Maybe he listens to the people who say the war is a bore, and they are tired of hearing about it, and maybe he wonders why it is that he should somehow be ashamed that once this country did great things. Maybe he wonders what happened to the great men and the great dreams.

—WANT PEACE—

Probably he gets a cold feeling deep in his belly when he hears statesmen talk about another war. He may feel like the G. I. who wrote big and black on the walls of the old fortress at Verdun: "Austin White, Chicago, Ill., 1918."

"Austin White, Chicago, Ill., 1945." "This is the last time I want to write my name here."

Some of our fighters should get the gate—not part of it!

One thing certain to keep a man from looking his boss square in the eye is being asleep on the job.

It won't be long now until mothers will be just as enthusiastic about school starting as kids won't.

More than likely, movie censors originated the expression, "What's wrong with this picture?"

RICH IS GOING TO WHITEHORSE

Midland Editor Taking Boat Voyage To Skagway First

Princess Louise, Enroute to Skagway and Whitehorse—We staggered aboard this Canadian Pacific boat last night and are now on our way to Whitehorse for a quick look-see. It was not that we had been imbibing that made us stagger. It was those heavy pack-sacks, and seabags, weighing something over 150 pounds each and the fact that 25 minutes before we were in the hotel expecting to spend a quiet evening and get out some letters.

About 8:30 I'd been over to the Alaska Sportsman to take some photos down to Emery Tobin, the editor. I noticed a large crowd in there. Upon inquiry I found out that the "boat was in." Further questions developed the fact that it was the Princess Louise up-bound. So I went up to the room, shaved and asked Reardon if he'd like to go down and look at the boat. He did. We strolled down leisurely to look it over. We already had reservations in to fly to Juneau.

Then the idea struck us: "Why not a short boat trip?" An officer said it might be possible—to see their agent at the drug store. It was now 9:05—and the boat left at 9:30. We went up and bought tickets for $31.62 (including meals and berth) to Skagway, cancelled our air reservations, left forward and trudged down to the lobby with those heavy pack-sacks, cameras, film, tripod and all the other stuff one insists on taking. Even those two boxes we mailed home still left us with a lot of stuff.

It was only little over two blocks to the boat but we had about four minutes left—no boy to help carry the stuff—so we loaded up and carried it down. It was the longest two blocks I ever walked and we looked like we'd been in a steam bath by the time we made it—but we made it just as they began to clear the gang-plank.

The boat is really the way to travel if you want to see the country. It is leisurely, quiet and yet interesting. Last night at 10:30 they served us "tea." We took coffee. And then they had a variety of fish including canned salmon, some kind of sardines and another variety of fish, together with cheese, crackers and cookies and if you were hungry they'd bring you something else.

Our cabin is nice—two good beds—double decker. I won the flip for the lower bunk. It was one of the most comfortable rests we've had. There was still room for us after we got the bags in which is unusual for a boat state-room. But ours has a chair, closet for clothes, lavatory and plenty of hooks and an outside window.

The boat is spacious with writing rooms, a large observation room, space for dancing and ping pong, a large dining room and plenty of deck space.

It is 337 miles from Ketchikan to Skagway—and we are still only in the panhandle area when we get there. It is an additional 111 miles by rail to Whitehorse, but we thought this would give us an extra trip of interest. I have been up part way to Lake Bennett over this route which runs through the White Pass—the chief one the miners took in their trip to the Yukon during the gold rush at the turn of the century. The cost of the trip to Whitehorse and back to Skagway is $27.60 and includes two meals and some kind of a place to stay "the man says." We'll leave our baggage aboard the boat.

Reason we are not stopping long at Juneau—which we reach tonight is that "it ain't legal." Under the American "Jones act" picking up passengers in Alaska is prohibited for all practical purposes. But there is this exception, you can go to Juneau if you'll go to Skagway and come back to Juneau. That's because Skagway has no good service out and they've made one exception. So we go to Skagway and as we have two days to linger while the passengers go to Whitehorse, we too decide to go there. It's like going to Pontiac from the Saginaw valley via Detroit. But we're told the Canadians have the same rules on passengers and freight—a kinda mutual protection to cut competition. And no wonder Alaska is in such a transportation mess.

Why Motor Oils Get NERVOUS Breakdowns

Motor oil is busy as a one-armed paper hanger. It must COOL your engine, SEAL in combustion, lubricate and clean—all at the same time.

But gasoline and moisture seep into the oil; dust and grit collect along with soot and metal particles, and soon convert the oil into a mayonnaise-like mixture, SLUDGE. Then the oil can't effectively do its work and parts wear out—UNSEEN!

Our exclusive, patented CiscoSolvent treatment DIS-SOLVES sludge. In twenty minutes the oiling system is freed of dirty dregs—metal parts are left clean. Your engine can then get full benefit from fresh, new motor oil.

Y., and moved to the Garden peninsula when she was three years old. She made her home there for 71 years before moving to Escanaba. She was a member of St. Joseph church in this city.

Survivors include her husband; three sons, Joseph of Garden, Noel of Pontiac, and Thomas of Escanaba; twelve grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; one brother, Mose Boudreau, and one sister, Mrs. Virginia LeMire, both of Garden.

Cheaper Alcohol Made of Ethylene

San Francisco, Calif.—(SS)—Cheaper alcohol is made in a modern scientific way from ethylene, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers meeting here today was told.

Industrial ethyl alcohol has always been prepared by the ancient method of fermentation, but synthetic plants are replacing the sugar, starches, and blackstrap molasses with ethylene, prepared by petroleum cracking operations. Ethyl ether, the anesthetic, is prepared in the same process.

The ethylene is absorbed in sulfuric acid to make sulfates which are hydrolyzed to crude alcohol and a byproduct of thyl ether, C. M. Beamer of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey reported. The alcohol is refined by distillation to produce industrial alcohol and ether of exceptionally high quality.

Banker Is Called In Lansing Bribe Conspiracy Case

Lansing—(UP)—Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash has announced that Charles B. Bohn of Detroit, chairman of the board of directors of the Michigan National Bank, would appear for examination with 22 other defendants Sept. 10 in the bank bribe conspiracy case.

Judge Coash said that Bohn, who was on a business trip in South America when the grand jury issued the indictment last month, was arraigned Friday before Judge Paul Eger, I waived reading of the warrant, and demanded examination. Judge Coash was out of the city.

Top Michigan National Bank officials and members of the 1941 legislature are accused of conspiring to defeat an anti-branch banking bill through payment of bribes.

The only defendant who has not surrendered to the charges is former Rep. Walter N. Stockfish of Hamtramck, who is reported serving in the army outside the United States.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR 31ST ANNIVERSARY

Citizens' Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. of Howell finished 31 years of success on Aug. 27, 1946. This was observed in one of the largest meetings of agents, adjusters and others connected with the Company since 1915, 450 from all over the State were present.

During the past year the Company has increased its assets from 2 millions to 2 1/2 millions. Also has increased the volume of business written and the number of policyholders. The Company has increased its adjusting force to give good service in all parts of the State.

Louis Burke acted as toastmaster and introduced Murray D. Van Wagoner who he said in 1915 had started building the great highways of Michigan and pulled the State out of the mud. As a consequence, insurance agents and automobile dealers had increased their business greatly. Before this, automobiles would be laid up 3 to 5 months each year. Then he introduced Van Wagoner as a great engineer and a wonderful administrator. Governor Van Wagoner said he was greatly interested in road building and was glad to see the Thumb District of Michigan and the Upper Peninsula with good roads. Automobile dealers, insurance agents and farmers all had benefited thereby. He said he had come to Howell to pay tribute to George Burke, and Wm. E. Robb the founder of the Company. He had found Mr. Robb not only interested in the insurance company but well known in Lansing and he had many friends in the legislature. He was glad to see so many young men in the organization to carry on—Bert Woodhams, Jim Robb, Joe Brady, Bill Ladner, Arthur Smith and others, and the fine bunch of young ladies to carry on the work. He hoped that the Company would have many years of success and he hoped to be there again.

Jim Robb introduced Gerald Cotter and Attorney-General Foss Eldred who said that he had been dealing with the Company for twenty-five years and had learned to appreciate them. Maurice Moule also spoke of friendship for the Company.

Joe Brady introduced the Members of the Legislature—Senators Smith and Reid who said many nice things, and Representatives Charles Feenstra, Tom Moran, Thurber Cornell and Joe Warner who made fine speeches.

Arthur Elliott, brother of Judge Elliott, of Flint, who was in the first world war, called attention to the fact that the people had had one chance between the first war and the second, in which to make plans to prevent another; that usually one does not have a second chance but we now have and should give close attention to it; that he was anxious to look out for the rights of soldiers and his attention had been called just recently to the fact that in job training pay had been cut from $250 to $175, that they could not live on this and make payments on their homes, causing hardship. At the same time Congress had increased its own pay $5,000, with $2500 free of taxes.

Cameron McLean furnished the songs during a fine dinner and everyone was happy. The afternoon was spent on the golf club and luncheon and refreshments served. Many remarks were made about the splendid meeting and the fine family spirit among the agents. Great unity speaks for success.

HOOK ATTACKS WALTER HENZE

Congressman Defends His Forestry Bill At Labor Parley

Iron Mountain — Promising a "fight to the finish" on House Bill 6221, known as the Hook Forestry Bill, and predicting that it will be enacted whether or not he is elected to Congress, Frank E. Hook, 12th District representative, at Sunday's conference in Kingsford, of the U. P. Rehabilitation and Economic Council blasted Walter A. Henze, chairman of the Independent Land Owners' Association for his current campaign against the bill.

Hook first commended the U.P. Council for its effort towards rehabilitation of the region and said: "I was especially pleased to hear the remarks of the Rev. Robert Muir, who preceded me. If we can encourage more people of his type to become interested in this effort it will mean better conditions for ourselves and our families, and for all who are working toward a real standard of living."

The congressman then plunged abruptly into a discussion of his forestry bill, described as "a bill to further the conservation and proper use of publicly and privately-owned forest lands, and for other purposes."

Not Surprised
"I have been told," he began, "that there is going to be quite a fight against what is known as the Hook Forestry Bill. I am not at all surprised and it is not the first time that my opponents have fought a forestry bill. Several years ago I introduced a bill particularly affecting the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin. This bill was based on a program that would have paid its own way. It would have authorized the secretary of the agriculture to borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation 25 million dollars for the purpose of setting up a conservative program, and protect our forests, our streams and our land."

"It provided that an operator who voluntarily wished to come under the program would first log selectively and, after the first cutting, the U. S. government would come in and buy the residual timber. Well, Jesse Jones said, first, that he did not think the bill was 'economically sound.' I told him that the only way to have the work done by the only organization qualified for the work—the U. S. Forest Service."

"The Forest Service made three definite surveys and each one showed that the plan was definitely sound and that it would have paid its way out in 45 years. But they still didn't want it."

4-H Club Exhibits Hold Spotlight At U.P. Fair

Coming out of the wartime period with colors flying, 4-H Club members of the Upper Peninsula are putting on one of the best exhibits in boys and girls club work the U. P. State Fair has ever seen, with space at a premium in the section allotted to them in the exhibition building.

Miss Edith Johnson and Orville Walker of Marquette, assistant 4-H Club leaders in the Upper Peninsula, superintendents of the exhibit reported yesterday that exhibits were overflowing the space and more were still coming in. Garden produce was particularly plentiful, evidence of interest in garden club work.

Thursday is 4-H Club Day at the fair, with the 4-H Club parade scheduled to start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon in front of the

SURPLUS LANDS DEALS UPHELD

Real Estate Sales To States And Cities May Be 'Gifts'

Washington, Aug. 26.—(P)—The war assets administration has "unfroze" 52 sales and leases of surplus real estate to states and non-profit institutions after the justice department upheld their legality.

It had suspended further action on all 53 of the pending transactions after a house investigating committee questioned the disposal of the Thunderbird Airport in Arizona to a newly-formed school. This transaction continues to be held up pending completion of the congressional inquiry, but the "stop" order on all the others was removed.

The justice department upheld the WAA's procedure on two points:

1. It held that sales discounts of as much as 100 percent, making the property in effect a gift, are authorized in cases where the WAA finds that the United States will receive corresponding benefits.

2. It held that beneficiaries of such sales are not limited to institutions which were in existence before the act was passed Oct. 3, 1944, but that "newly-formed institutions certified by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to be non-profit educational institutions exempt from taxation" also may benefit.

grandstand. Features of the day include judging of the dairy classes starting at 9 a. m.; the potato achievement contest at 10 a. m.; demonstrations in the exhibition building; the dairy achievement contest in the afternoon following the inter-county parade; and the viewing of exhibits.

Judging of exhibits in the food preparation, gardening, canning, handicraft, clothing, and other classifications will be done tomorrow, the superintendents announced. Although exhibits are necessarily limited because of space requirements, the displays generally are running far ahead of other fair years.

Four girls in home economics, and four boys in agricultural projects, who are winners in their field of work will be given an educational tour as an award. The girls have an achievement booth at the exhibition building, and there the girls must be present on Thursday to meet the judges for an interview.

The four boys will be contestants in the calf and potato club achievement contests. One will be a potato club member, and three will be calf club members. Each county is limited to two entries in the contest, for which the judging will be held Thursday.

4-H Club girls who have entered in the achievement booth contest today will serve in explaining to the public an exhibit by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Delta county's 4-H Club garden club members have made an impressive showing at the fair this year, according to Ben Westrate, county 4-H agent. While the number of entries is large, that is to be expected because of the distance factor which limits larger representation of garden produce from some sections of the Upper Peninsula.

Other exhibits include 4-H conservation, tractor maintenance, electrical work, photography, good grooming, clothing, food preparation, home management, personal accounts, and hot lunch.

Retail Lumbermen Hold Annual Meeting In Iron Mountain

Confusion of duties and lack of cooperation within the governmental agencies which regulate the retail lumber trade as much behind the difficulties now confronting the activity as the much-talked of shortages and other obstacles, Don Montgomery, secretary, and H. P. McDermott, manager of the mortgage department, Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association, told some 85 dinner guests at the annual meeting, Saturday night, of the Cleveland Retail Lumbermen's club, at Iron Mountain.

In a brief talk, Secretary Montgomery, of the Wisconsin Association, reviewed the regulations on lumber and told why the retail dealers are not getting the material they seek. "There is vast confusion in Washington about regulation of the retail lumber business," he said. "There is, apparently, little cooperation between the OPA and the agencies which are responsible for setting up the rules and regulations, and the result is highly detrimental to the trade."

McDermott conducted a question box on prices and other OPA regulations, and said that the prices set up by OPA for sash and door manufacturers are in wide variance with established retail selling prices, and the immediate effect is to hold back new building, particularly for veterans, in thousands of communities throughout the country.

Beetles Aid Man In War on Weeds

Berkeley, Calif.—Insects that devour plants are not always man's enemies. One Australian beetle promises to become a useful ally to man in California because it eats only a certain kind of weed, known as the Klamath weed.

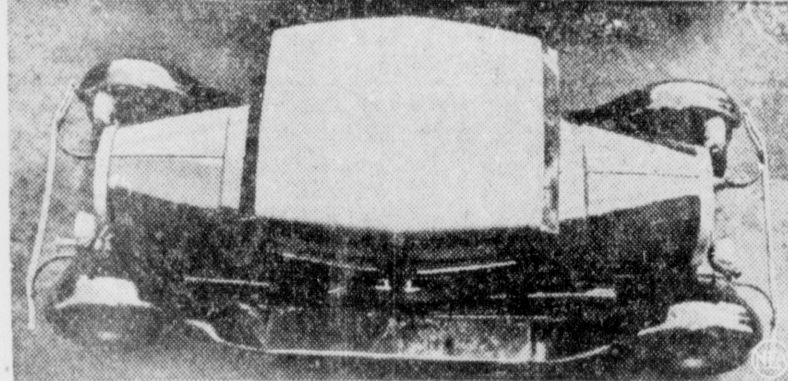

Success with imported stocks of the weed-eating beetle is reported by James K. Holloway, U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologist who works in collaboration with the University of California experiment station. The beetle's usefulness, he explains, is due to the fact that the weed it feeds on, known elsewhere as St. John's wort, has no near relatives among crop or pasture plants.

About 100,000 acres of California range lands are infested with the Klamath weed, and the helpful little beetles from Australia are being propagated as rapidly as possible so that they may be released in the field.

Antique Display Is Glimpse Into Past Of Great Interest

For the first time antiques displayed at the U. P. State Fair have been segregated into a separate department with gratifying results. Now these relics of the past are no longer seen in too close proximity to articles of modern origin. The change eliminates criticism which has come from exhibitors and removes a cause of confusion to those viewing the exhibits. This year's antique department, housed on tables in the same rooms in which the art exhibition is hung, displays a large variety of true antiques.

Without doubt the most ancient article on display is an urn dating from the pre-Christian era. It was unearthed at the site of Herculaneum, ancient Roman resort city which was buried by an eruption of the volcano Vesuvius in 67 A. D.

There are a number of bibles and books well over a hundred years old, one of which is a hand illustrated and written copy book dating from 1836. An 1839 pre-stamp folded letter sheet containing orders to a soldier at Fort Mackinac with post marks showing that the letter was mailed at Washington, D. C. on December 14, 1839 and received at the Fort on January 12, 1840, a contrast to the speed of today's mail service.

One of the more interesting examples of old handwork is an accordion made entirely by hand 55 years ago by a Delta county man. Also shown are typewriters, old copper and brass ware, china, dolls, a small hand made crib, miniature furniture and many other articles which bring today's Fair-goers a glimpse of the past.

Officials of the department are Mrs. Victor Powers, Mrs. Timothy Cassidy and Mrs. Stack Smith.

CAR PRODUCTION SET BACK AGAIN

Chrysler Layoff Cuts 20,000 Units Off Week's Output

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit—(AP)—Efforts of the nation's motorcar makers to push into high level production has received another setback as Chrysler Corp. closed down all its assembly lines because of parts and materials shortages.

Idling of the Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler division assembly lines will take more than 20,000 units out of the current week's production volume, shrinking the industry total for the current five-day period to between 65,000 and 70,000 vehicles.

However, Chrysler said the shutdown would continue only through the current week.

Just a week ago today the car industry brought its 1946 passenger automobile output over the 1,000,000 unit mark. In the same period of 1941 the car assembly plants had turned out approximately 2,800,000 passenger vehicles.

At the current rate of output passenger car production does not match normal replacement requirements, which over the decade immediately preceding the war averaged 2,300,000 units annually. Until the production level exceeds the normal replacement need there can be little hope of any improvement in delivery prospects for the average car buyer.

The trade publication Automotive News in its current estimates of the industry's production places total passenger car and truck output from Jan. 1 to Aug. 24 in United States plants at 1,574,465 units, of which 1,058,461 were passenger vehicles.

Conservation Men Meet In Escanaba

About twenty-five conservation officers met at the Escanaba headquarters yesterday to discuss recommendations for changes in lake and stream classifications for 1947.

Also discussed was the maintenance of roads for forest fire protection in state forest and refuge areas. James Scully, superintendent of the Thompson fish hatchery, and Milton Bergman, Marquette, fire technician, were among the officers in attendance.

Announcement was made at the meeting that through an exchange with the Sawyer-Stoll company the state recently acquired 3600 acres in the Escanaba river game area and 1500 acres in the Cedar River game area.

A Friendly Suggestion About Highway Travel Over Labor Day Weekend

Labor Day weekend, 1946, will see one of the heaviest travel rushes that highways and bus terminals ever have experienced.

So that we may give adequate service to those who must travel during this period, Greyhound earnestly suggests that all who can do so postpone bus trips from Saturday, August 31, through Monday, September 2.

Greyhound is in the business of providing the finest in highway transportation and is taking vigorous steps to overcome travel conditions created by the war. New buses, new terminals, and finer, faster more frequent schedules are on the way.

To those who are awaiting delivery of their New Oldsmobiles

Series '70' Club Sedan. GM Hydramatic Drive optional at extra cost.

A Word of Appreciation... and a Suggestion, too!

We know how anxious you are to get your new Oldsmobile. And there's nothing we'd like better to do, right now, than to say to every Oldsmobile buyer: "Your car is here. Come get it!"

But frankly, it just isn't possible to do that. There still aren't enough new Oldsmobiles to go around. Due to shortages in materials and unavoidable limitations on production, the output of new cars still is behind schedule. And our allotments are far below the figures that we originally anticipated.

We want to assure you, however, that everything possible is being done, both here and at the factory, to get your car in your hands promptly. And we'd like to take this occasion to thank you sincerely for the patient and considerate way in which you have borne with us during this period of waiting.

Meanwhile, we have an important suggestion: Don't neglect the car you drive today.

The war has taught us all the importance of careful upkeep and regular service. While you're waiting for your new Oldsmobile, therefore, be sure to take advantage of our factory-authorized Oldsmobile service program. We are offering every kind of modern automotive service—from lubrication to major overhauls. Regular servicing of your car will safeguard your investment and assure you of safe, dependable transportation until that great day when your new Oldsmobile is here!

Navy Invades Arctic With Planes, Ships

Washington—Based at Thule Greenland, where Navy and Coast Guard vessels have penetrated the farthest north into the icefields that ships have ever sailed at this time of year, two Navy patrol planes have flown ice and weather reconnaissance missions over the Arctic within 450 nautical miles of the North Pole.

The flights were a part of scientific studies being made of such varied subjects as cosmic rays and icebergs by the personnel on the ships at the Greenland port.

Only special equipment on the flights that reached the northernmost known land in the world was an electric compass that functioned well in the near-polar regions.

The expedition was "blackout" by sunspots the last week in July that cut off radio contacts, but the difficulty aided the studies of scientific observers concerned with cosmic rays and radio communications problems.

In reaching the north Greenland port, the ships of the expedition sailed through iceberg-infested waters, using radar to keep clear of the north's most dangerous navigational hazards. It was reported that the southern limit of the ice pack lies farther north than usual, and this summer was described as unusually good for navigation.

New Products and Processes Revealed

Washington—All-weather shoe leather, improved lubricants, new metal-polishing processes and more durable plastic optical surfaces were all developed by American scientists during wartime research, reports published here disclose.

The most satisfactory shoe for all climates was found to be made from chrome tanning of calfskin from the shoulder area of the hide, by researchers at the University of Cincinnati working under a contract with the Office of Scientific Research and Development.

Seeking the best shoes for military use, the scientists found that the basic tanning method and the hide area from which the leather is cut are the chief factors in determining the strength of a shoe.

One tip they reported for people in cold climates: raw cod liver oil, used alone or mixed with a low viscosity mineral oil, will preserve the flexibility of calfskin leather shoes.

Research at the Petroleum Refining Laboratory at Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa., include the testing of hundreds of lubricants and resulted in establishing several new specifications for oils. Most of the oils developed were designed to meet special military requirements.

All-State Halfback Joins MSC Squad

East Lansing, Aug. 27. (P)—Coach Charley Bachman's stock in his 1946 Michigan State College football squad rose today with the unexpected appearance of Horace Smith, all-state halfback at Jackson high school in 1941, in the Spartan training camp.

The new Spartan backfield candidate was a standout high school track and football star and his state high school high hurdle record set in 1941 still stands. He is a veteran of four years in the navy.

Two letter winners from last year, quarterback Dominic Conti and end Matt Mazza, both of Niagara Falls, also reported for practice today along with Dave Lumsden, of Stoney Point, N. C., who made a good showing as a fullback at spring drills. Both Lumsden and Mazza were members of State's 1946 basketball squad.

Bachman and his staff put the record 100 football candidates through conditioning workouts for the second day of practice and put them to work on plays of State's Flying Z system. There will be no heavy scrimmages for two weeks, Bachman said.

Declaring he was "pleased" with the showing of talent among the candidates so far, Bachman said the squad had the makings of a "versatile and fast" team.

STOCKS TOPPLE 1 TO 8 POINTS

BY VICTOR EUBANK
New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—"Black Tuesday" succeeded "Blue Monday" in the stock market today as leading rails and industrials suffered one of their sharpest stumbles of the year with many hitting new 1946 lows on losses of 1 to 8 points before late support stemmed the slide.

Brokers blamed the relapse on a variety of causes including impaired investment confidence due to apprehension over labor prospects, foreign affairs, price controls, production difficulties, a record rise in manufacturers' inventories and the fact that the market for some time has been acting fatigued and unable to respond to numerous increased dividends and other fairly good news.

Transfers of 1,700,000 shares compared with 700,000 the day before and were the largest since May 29. The Associated Press 60-stock composite went off 2.6 points at 72.1 bottom since October 30, 1945. It was the broadest market since May 28, which was a record of 1,077 issues. Of 1,059 stocks appearing today, only 51 rose while 942 declined.

On the downside in the curb were Cities Service, Aluminum of America, Creole Petroleum, Middle West Corp., Northern Airlines, Texton and U. S. Rail. "B" Turnover here was 360,000 shares versus 220,000 yesterday.

RAIL LIENS DROP
New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Rail loans tumbled fractions to 4 points to a new average low for the year in the bond market today.

The break among the carriers was one of the fastest in months. Industrial and utility liens maintained a comparatively stable course. Off to a wobbly start, the rails gave ground quickly as traders watched prices slide downward in the stock market. Final quotations were at or close to the lows of the day.

Brokers said the immediate cause of the sell-off was the behavior of stocks although they pointed out that the carriers had to contend with unfavorable earnings reports and the possibility I. C. C. action on higher freight rates may be long postponed.

Sales of $5,050,000, largest in two weeks, compared with $3,043,000 Monday.

TRADING TRENDS

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—

Stocks: Weak; heavy selling hits leading issues.

Bonds: Lower; many rails touch new lows for year.

Cotton: Lower; New Orleans and local selling.

Chicago: Wheat—Steady—possibility of CCC buying price increase.

Corn: Steady—commission house buying.

Oats—Easy—sales by elevator interests.

Hogs: Active to mostly $1.00 higher; top $19.50.

Cattle: 50 cents lower to 50 cents higher; top early $28.00.

NEW TECHNIQUE USED ON POLIO

Bulbar Type Death Toll
Reduced In Minnesota
By Treatment

By DON BRANNON
Minneapolis — (AP) — University of Minnesota doctors report a noteworthy reduction in deaths has been achieved in the Minnesota infantile paralysis epidemic through use of new techniques in treating bulbar, the so-called killer type, poliomyelitis.

Dr. Maurice B. Visscher, professor of physiology told newsmen visiting the University hospitals' polio wards today: "Since the application of new techniques in treating bulbar polio, we have had a significant reduction in the mortality rate. We have found that if we can keep bulbar patients breathing five to seven days they have a good chance of surviving."

The University hospitals have given the new treatment to 46 bulbar cases.

Although Dr. Visscher declined to give specific figures on mortality reduction, explaining he wished to observe more cases, his colleagues said the success has been highly gratifying.

Bulbar, polio attacks brain cells controlling the respiratory system. Having determined that in most cases not all of the cells are destroyed and that they have recuperative powers, the doctors sought means of keeping the patients breathing.

The iron lung took care of those whose chest muscles were paralyzed. But the big problem was the case in which the patient's larynx was closed. He could not breathe. Many of these victims died of suffocation.

The doctors resorted to pressure breathing equipment developed at Wright Field by the Army Air Forces. After an incision is made into the patient's neck, a tube is inserted into the trachea below the larynx. The machine then feeds a combination of oxygen and helium into the patient's lungs.

The treatment also employs the oximeter—another air forces development. This scale measures the oxygen tension in the patient, charting it on graph paper. Among other things, it enables the doctor to determine the length of periods a patient may be taken from the respirator and when he can be removed permanently.

Some cases require simultane-

Soo Line Freight Derailed Sunday

About 12 cars of Soo Line Freight Train No. 67 left the rails near Cranston Sunday about 12:30 p. m., causing obstruction of the tracks for about 24 hours.

Cause of the derailment is unknown. The track was cleared and traffic resumed shortly after noon on Monday. Wrecking equipment was obtained from Neenah, Wis.

A. C. Peterson, superintendent of the Gladstone division, and Walter Olds, trainmaster, went to the scene.

ous use of all three pieces of apparatus.

The doctors see great significance in the treatment in that bulbar polio has claimed so many lives. Pure bulbar has no crippling aftermath, however, Dr. Visscher said.

CITY EMPLOYEES WANT MORE PAY

Petition Tabled Monday
Evening By City
Commish

A petition signed by most of the city employees asking for general wage increases and consideration of a pension plan was received and read at the city commission meeting Monday evening.

Four things were asked in the petition: namely, a general increase in pay for all employees; adoption of a pension plan; a forty hour week for office employees and higher pay for truck and tractor drivers than for regular hourly work.

The matter was tabled, inasmuch as commissioners felt that salaries and rates of pay here were on a par if not higher than other places of comparable size in the Upper Peninsula.

Advertising for bids for construction of a sanitary sewer in North Fifteenth between 3rd and 4th avenues was authorized. Plans and specifications are on file at the office of the city clerk.

An ordinance calling for the altering of Block 104 from Class A to commercial was introduced and public hearing on the matter set for Sept. 23. The change is sought so a body bumping plant may be established in a large garage on the Wesley Heslip property at the west end of the city.

Preparation of plans and cost estimates for a sewer on Superior avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets was authorized.

Payment of $975 to the Alpine Construction company of St. Ignace for crushing 1,500 tons of gravel for the city was also authorized.

Engaging of James Norick as a fulltime member of the police department was also approved. Norick has been on part time for several years.

Boy Scouting Prominent Boy Movement In Nation

Boy Scouting is one of the prominent boy movements and ably supplements the home, church and school in the building of youth. Rotarians were told by S. N. Bradford, scout executive, at their regular meeting at the Yacht club.

He said it was the duty of sponsors to display interest and cooperate with the Scoutmasters. The entire burden of direction and display of interest should not be up to the leaders, the club was told.

A good job is being done in Scouting in Gladstone but there is room for improvement, Bradford declared, adding that the city could well stand another cub pack and that there is place for Sea Scouting here.

He said the Rotary-sponsored troop is not only large, but active. A Court of Honor for the district is to be held at Escanaba on Sept. 19 at which time there will be Eagle, Life and Star Scouts up for awards.

Harold Mackie, Scoutmaster of Troop 66, and Robert Hupp, assistant Scoutmaster of 66, were guests at the dinner as were Floyd Gerdeau and Robert Primley of St. Joseph, Mich.

TO TAKE OVER BURIAL GROUND

Lakeview Cemetery To Be Managed By City

Arrangement for a special meeting of the stockholders of Lakeview cemetery at the city hall on the afternoon of September 20 for the purpose of bringing about the dissolution of the organization so as to enable the city to take over its management, was announced at Monday evening's meeting of the city council by City Attorney G. S. Johnson.

The city council at a meeting several weeks ago to investigate and taken the necessary steps to have the administration of this pioneer burial grounds placed in hands that will assure its permanent upkeep.

The city attorney stated that special legislation enabling cities to take over possession of cemeteries was recently passed and this law will be invoked to bring the cemetery under the jurisdiction of the city. He stated also, that the Lakeview Cemetery Association has had no legal meeting in 20 years and that the meeting of the stockholders is being called to get their full consent to possession of the property by the city.

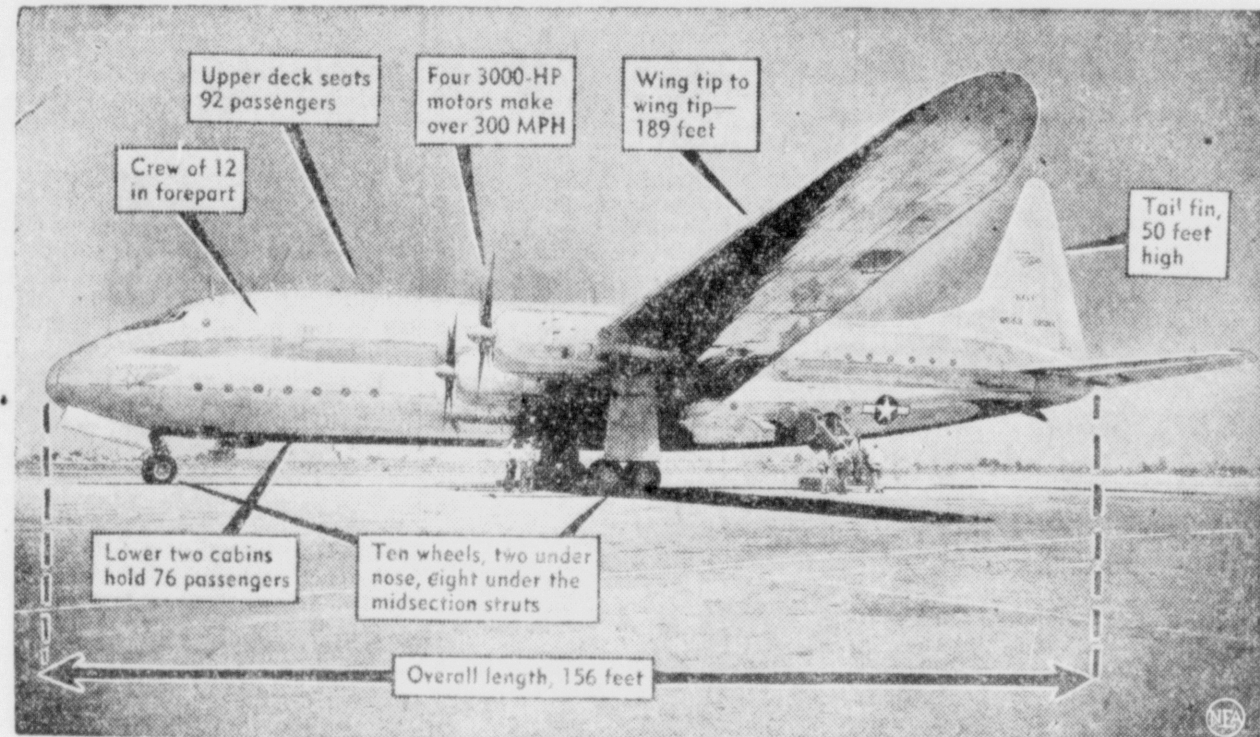

The cemetery site was deeded to the association by the Chicago Lumber Company more than sixty years ago. For years an association functioned and the property was well kept up, but in the last decade or so those once active in its management have either died or have become enfeebled by advanced years and the cemetery has had practically no upkeep, except such as has been given individual graves.

C. L. Smith, who for many years kept the books and attended to the sale of cemetery lots for the association, last spring served notice that he had done this as a public service without remuneration and would no longer serve. This action resulted in appointment by the council of a committee composed of the city attorney and the city manager to investigate.

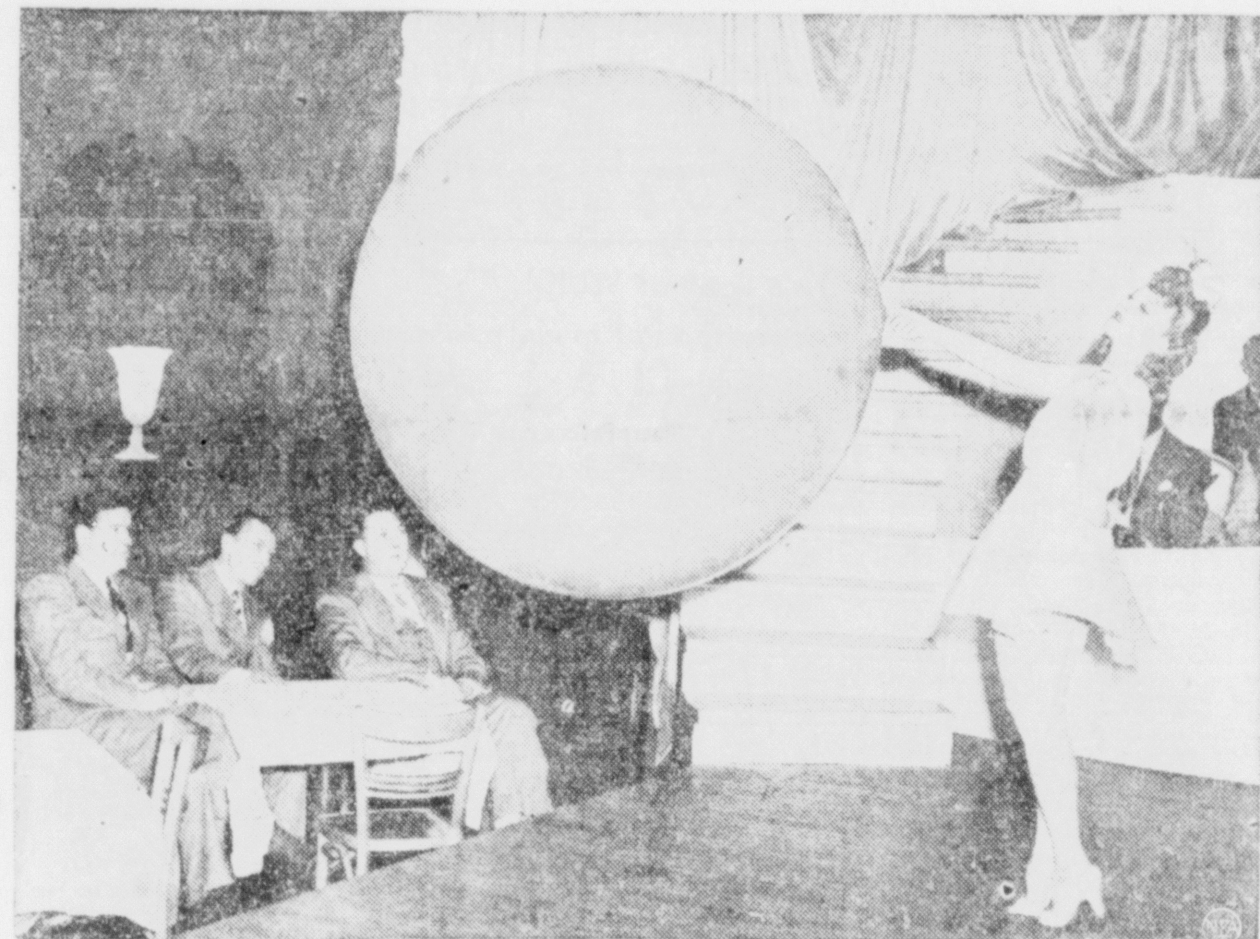

The coming meeting will, in all probability, bring about the solution of a matter which has long been a vexing problem.

4 American League Hurlers Have Chance To Win 25 Games

By FRANK ECK

New York—For the first time in the American League since 1912, this year may see four pitchers in the select 25-game winner class.

Though the task of four men totaling 100 victories is possible it appears highly improbable. These pitchers would have to work almost every fourth day and on occasion they would be in direct competition with a contemporary.

They are Hal Newhouse of the Detroit Tigers, Dave Ferriss of the Boston Red Sox, Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians and Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees.

Newhouse, the big left-hander, is a veteran at winning 25 and of the quartet he stands the best chance to do it again. Hal won 29 games for the Tigers in 1944 and last season he scored 25 wins. He helped the Tigers win not only the pennant but also the World Series from the Cubs when he chalked up two more victories.

Bob Ferriss looked like a 30-game winner a few weeks ago. He had 10 victories before being charged with a setback. Then he lost three straight. He still figures to better his freshman record of 21 and 10 last season.

Feller, who led the league with 24 conquests in '39 and repeated with 27 in '40 and 25 in '41 before going into the Navy, is back in prewar form. Chandler also is back in his old winning groove. In '43 he paced the circuit with 20 successes.

In 1912 four American League pitchers accounted for 119 victories. Smokey Joe Wood had 34, Walter Johnson 32, Ed Walsh 27 and Eddie Plank 22.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO BUTTER
Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—(USDA)—Butter, steady to firm; AA 53 score, 23.5; A 32, 22.5 to 23.5; B 19, 21; C 18, 19.5 to 20.5.

CHICAGO EGGS
Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—(USDA)—Eggs, steady to firm; trade unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—Action in the wheat pit today was not in great volume, but prices held firmer than yesterday, influenced to some extent by the unconfirmed reports to traders that the Commodity Credit Corporation may increase its buying price.

One report was that the price of control board has under consideration advancing the price 8 3/4 cents a bushel based on Kansas City prices.

Reports of damage in Minnesota caused a late upturn in corn. During the greater part of the trade prices had held about steady, with commission house buying offsetting offerings by local traders.

Oats lost ground on offerings attributed to elevator interests.

At the close wheat was 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower than the previous finish, January $1.97 1/2. Corn was 1/2 to 3/4 higher, January $1.33 3/4. Oats were 1-8 to 3/4 lower, September 73 1/2. Barley was 1/4 higher, November $1.33 1/4.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—Prime steers maintained their new record peak of $30.00 for the third day in succession, and other strictly good and choice steers and yearlings were scarce, ruling 25 to 30 cents higher, but lower grades and beef kinds were up to 50 cents lower in an overstocked market.

Hogs moved up 50 cents to $19.00 higher than the sharply lower prices but yesterday, but spring lambs failed by 50 cents of equaling their new $22.00 record set yesterday.

Cattle arrivals dropped sharply from yesterday's heavy receipts but the trade still was unable to absorb all comers and many medium and light cattle which were held over from Monday could not be moved today and were held over again.

The price next to the prime material at $30.00 was $28.00, a closer criterion of the market, most steers going at $21.00 to $26.50. Heifers were steady to 50 cents lower, cows 25 to 50 cents down, bulls steady to weak, and only vealers were fully steady at $19.00.

Hog unloads declined somewhat today and were not too much for dealers to handle, complete clearance ruling early and buyers making off with 2,000 head of 9,000 on sale. Packers brought in 3,000 on direct consignment also. The top of $19.50 cents to $19.00 and was 50 cents more than yesterday. Other weights were stronger, however, accounting for the higher average. Sows advanced 50 cents generally.

Slaughter lambs were mostly $22.50 to all interests and was the market top, while slaughter ewes held steady at an $8.50 top on good and choice grade.

Receipts totaled 9,000 cattle, 1,000 calves, and 5,500 sheep.

Selection Of City Manager Is Postponed

The city council again deferred action on the matter of choosing a city manager. The decision to wait was made because one of the applicants, with whom the council had arranged for an interview, has not as yet arrived. It was learned that he was on vacation. The three men under consideration are N. G. Damoose, of Battle Creek, Peter Roan, of Wayne, and Edward Larson, of Ludington. Damoose and Roan have already conferred personally with the council.

Among numerous matters considered by the council Monday was a complaint registered by Mrs. Clinton Welch, 306 Chippewa avenue, that cinders from the paper mill smoke stack are creating a nuisance in her neighborhood. Her complaint has been taken under advisement.

John Lindberg, of Manistique avenue, requested that water mains be extended to his property. The city manager was instructed to investigate.

Walter Nelson, representing the Nelson Cloverland Creamery, was present and registered a complaint against a letter the company received from Dr. E. J. Brenner, county health physician regarding the bacterial count in milk sold by the company. Nelson claimed that in over 200,000 quarts of milk sold by the company, there had been no rejections. He also stated that he questioned the reliability of the bacterial count. The council took no action in the matter.

New polling places in the First and Third Wards of the city will have to be found for the next election, it was announced and the voting place in the old infirmary will not be available and the city hall as a voting place is not desirable because it interferes with city business. The city clerk was delegated to find other places in which to vote.

Swim Sessions At Indian Lake Ended Today

Daily swimming instruction at Indian Lake under the instruction of T. H. Reque, playground supervisor, ended today, according to announcement by the Manistique Board of Recreation.

In the short time that these sessions have been held, an average of more than 100 youngsters have made the daily bus trip to the lake.

Cold, it seems, has been no bar to the enthusiasm of the children. Mr. Reque states, as some of the best days were when local residents put on more wraps.

"Some of the youngsters played around in the water like trout," said Mr. Reque in commenting on the fact that boys and girls became expert in the water.

The board plans to add the services of a life guard and added diving equipment next season.

More Manistique Made Toys Sent To Philippines

A second shipment of "Tommy Toys," manufactured by Manistique by Helman & Thompson, was made to Manila, Philippine Islands, during the past week. There were one thousand of these aluminum toys in the shipment.

An earlier shipment of a like number of toys was made to the same city in July.

Asks Veterans To Apply At Once For Furlough Claims

Leonard Mulhaupt, Schoolcraft county veteran counselor, urgently requests that local veterans who wish to apply for their veteran furlough pay claims, take advantage at the earliest possible moment of the facilities provided at the commercial room at the high school each evening this week.

A number of competent stenographers and typists are on hand each evening from 7 to 10 o'clock to assist with filling out of blanks and the veteran counselor is also on hand to give advice on matters not fully understood.

The stenographers are doing this voluntarily and without pay and cannot be expected to do this very long. The Office of Veterans Affairs is fully occupied with other matters of interest to veterans and much delay and unnecessary red tape can be avoided if the veterans concerned will apply at the school building.

The number of veterans who applied Monday evening was small.

Will Inspect Spud Fields For Certification

Growers of certified seed potatoes will have their fields inspected for a second time this season in Schoolcraft county, on Wednesday, August 28, Joseph Heirman, county agent announces.

Growers are reminded that their fields should be relatively clean should they expect their fields to pass inspection. Black leg, spurple top, and black scurf are beginning to show up in some of the fields. These diseased hills should be rogued out as soon as possible, says the county agent.

The inspection will be made by Herb Reuley, of the Michigan Seed Inspection Service. There are about 55 acres of potatoes up for certification this year.

Artificial Limb Broken With Car Hits Pedestrian

Axel Soder, 55, Crosby apartments, who operates a pop corn wagon on Deer street, was injured when struck by a car driven by William Cowman, Monday evening. Soder was injured while crossing the street in front of the Thomas Cafe.

Cowman stopped immediately and took the injured man to the Shaw hospital where the injuries were found to be abrasions on Soder's forehead and nose and a sprained wrist. Soder's most serious difficulty, however, is a broken artificial leg. He was a veteran of World War I and lost a leg in the service.

NOT TO SERVE WITH DEFENSE

City Attorney States
He Will Not Defend
Police Officer

Stating that it is not the function of the city attorney to defend members of the city police force who become involved in damage suits, City Attorney G. S. Johnson served notice that he will not serve as attorney for the defense in two cases pending in circuit court against Elmer Anderson, a member of the local force who is being sued on charges of false arrest.

The two cases mentioned by Johnson are one in which Mrs. Lena Anthony and the other C. M. Tyrrell are plaintiffs. In each case, the plaintiffs allege arrests were made without service of warrants.

The question as to the extent to which the city stood liable for acts of its police officers was raised but no definite conclusion was arrived at.

Weiss Starts Hunting For Pro Grid Umpires

By ARDEN SKIDMORE
AP Newsfeatures

Pittsburgh—Judge Samuel A. Weiss, a dapper little fellow who thinks it's easier to be a judge than a football official, says standards of officiating in the National Football League must be raised.

Weiss, who recently resigned as a congressman to become a common pleas court judge here, will have jurisdiction over all league officials—and the recruiting of new whistle-blowers—in his new role as a deputy to Commissioner Bert Bell.

"Pro football is here to stay but it will stay strong and clean only if we get the right type of officials," says Weiss, a widely known grid official himself. "My job with Mr. Bell will be to assist him with improvement of the class of officials in the league."

Scouting Job
The chunky little judge, who is 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighs about 145 pounds and is as peppy as a vitamin pill, will work for Bell on Sundays. He expects to officiate in about eight league games. The rest of the time he'll be scouting around the country with an eye peeled for good officials.

"It isn't a tough job," he says. "When I hear of a good official, I'll go to see him work."

Sammy should know a good official when he sees one. He's been in the business himself for 22 years, during which he estimates he's handled over 500 football games—and lost six teeth, squeezing into those bruising pileups at the line.

He got his start in the National Football League in 1924, after a broken leg had forced William H. (Red) Friesell, Jr.—the 5th down man of the 1940 Cornell-Dartmouth game—to the sidelines.

Last Season as Official
Pressed by court duties, Sammy says, 1946 probably will be his last as a football official.

He is fascinated by his judgeship but remarks that it isn't a whole lot different from being a football official. On both he must make decisions.

"Most people don't realize it," Weiss says, "but an official must train like an athlete and be physically fit and mentally awake. Gosh, we even have to submit to medical examinations."

Athletics Trample White Sox, 5 and 2

Philadelphia, Aug. 27 (AP)—Jess Flores held the Chicago White Sox to seven hits to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 5 to 2 victory before an estimated 6,500 tonight. It was the A's seventh victory in eight games. Pete Suder collected two doubles.

It was Flores' third straight victory and gave him a season record of six wins and five defeats. He ran his string of scoreless innings pitched to 22 before the Sox pushed over a run in the fifth.

Edgar Smith was a victim of his own wiliness and errors as the A's tallied two in the first on two walks, a bunt by Tuck Stainback and infield outs.

The A's added two more in the second on singles by George McKinn and Elmer Valo, an error and infield outs. Suder's first two-bagger scored Stainback in the third for the Mackmen's final run.

Dodger Victory Throws National Loop Lead Back Into Tie

BY BOB SUITS

St. Louis, Aug. 27 (AP)—Brooklyn and St. Louis concluded their four-game for better or for worse series at Sportsman's Park today and after the Dodgers' 7-3 victory were in the same first-place National league tie that three days ago they both hoped to break up.

Things would have been better for the Cardinals except for Kirby Higbe and his fast ball and the barrage of hits the Dodgers loosed in the first six innings with the rapidity of rocket fire.

The Dodgers accumulated 16 hits off four Redbird pitchers, while Higbe was scattering seven hits over the nine-inning route.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen was relieved after the third inning for pinch-batter Bill Endicott, the first of three Cardinal pinch-hitters, all of whom were struck out in their single appearances.

Thereafter Manager Eddie Dyer used Ted Wilks, who gave up five hits in three innings; Fred Schmidt, who was rapped for only one hit in two; and Red Barrett, who got off with two hits for his ninth-inning work.

The Dodgers wasted no time against Brecheen, scoring two runs in the opening inning on three hits. Pete Reiser singled and stole second, and Dixie Walker took four balls. Carl Furillo's single scored Reiser, and Walker was safe on a play at home on Galan's single.

Brecheen Pounded
Red Schoendienst drove in a hard double to left centerfield and scored for the Cardinals in the first when Stan Musial grounded to Ed Stanky for the second out.

The Redbirds' eighth-inning rally started on Musial's single, and Enos Slaughter's triple. Whitey Kurowski then singled sharply to left field, scoring Slaughter with the Cardinals' third and final run.

Meanwhile the Dodgers were having a field day off Brecheen and Wilks. Four of their runs were made off eight hits yielded by Brecheen. The Dodgers came within two of a record with 16 men left on base before Dick Whitman grounded to Schoendienst for the Dodgers' final out.

Brooklyn's bats opened up again in the second off Brecheen with Bruce Edwards singling into left field and moving to third on Ed Stanky's single to short right. Peeewe Reese also hit, scoring Edwards, and Reiser drove in Stanky with a single.

Reese doubled to open Brooklyn's half of the fourth. Reiser rapped a line drive to Musial, but the first baseman jugged the ball and threw wild past Brecheen, letting Reiser move on to second, and Reese scored.

The Dodgers picked up another run in the ninth when Higbe scored on Dixie Walker's ground ball to Musial.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The NWM baseball championship series was tied up Sunday as Crystal Falls defeated Iron Mountain, 6 to 3, at Iron Mountain. The third and final game will be played next Sunday, Sept. 1, at Iron Mountain, the Rangers having won the toss. The victory was Constantine's third triumph over Iron Mountain's Bud Herman. Because of the necessity of playing off a third game in the NWM championship series, plans for a game between the Iron Mountain Rangers and an all-star team from the other seven clubs in the circuit have been abandoned. It had been tentatively scheduled for Sept. 1 at Iron Mountain.

The odds are better than even that 1946 will be the last season that the Eskymos football team will play all of their games on Saturday afternoons. The shift throughout the peninsula to light football is accelerating and there will be more U. P. games played under floodlights this fall than ever before. By 1947 there will be more night games played in the Upper Peninsula than Saturday afternoon games, and it is inevitable that the Eskymos will join the tide. By next fall virtually all of the Eskymos opponents will have installed lighting systems, and they're not erecting them for ornamental purposes.

The first annual North-South all-star high school football game at Camp Randall, Madison, Wisconsin, played last weekend, was an outstanding success, proving once more the popularity of this type of football promotion. It is interesting to note that the Wisconsin all-star game, like that in the Upper Peninsula at Negaunee Aug. 17, was denied the blessing of its state athletic association. However, in Wisconsin the coaches' association got on the ball and backed the event to the hilt while in the Upper Peninsula the coaches association shuddered at the thought. It was, unquestionably, the wrong decision for the U. P. coaches association to make under the circumstances.

WINNING CUBS NIP GIANTS, 2-1

Scoring Comes In Eighth Inning As Lanky Johnny Gee Weakens

Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—Scoring twice in the eighth inning, the Chicago Cubs nosed out the New York Giants, 2-1 today for their second one-run victory over the Polo Grounds crew in two straight days.

The win was the defending National league champions' 16th in 20 meetings over the Giants this season.

A walk to Lou Stringer and singles by Bob Scheffing, Johnny Ostrowski and Bob Sturgeon accounted for Chicago's winning rally.

Lanky Johnny Gee started for the Giants and was nursing a one-run lead, a homer by Walker Cooper in the sixth off Bob Chipman, before he weakened in the eighth.

Pirates Pummeled By Braves, 9 to 1

Pittsburgh, Aug. 27 (AP)—Boston made it 13 wins in 17 starts against the Pittsburgh Pirates today as Rookie Warren Spahn collected his seventh victory of the year, 9 to 1. A small crowd of 3,094 watched the contest.

Spahn, who pitched shutout ball until the seventh inning, held the Pirates to eight hits while the Braves shelled Fritz Ostermuller off the mound in the third inning after rapping him for four hits and five runs.

The Pirates got their only tally on a walk to Jimmy Brown, and singles by Al Lopez and Pinch-hitter Bill Baker.

Phil Masi drove in four Braves runs with a triple and a single.

The junior baseball tournament scheduled at Escanaba Aug. 30 and 31, next Friday and Saturday, under the sponsorship of the city recreation department, has proved more popular than his promoter had dared hope. At least 10 cities will be represented, extending from St. Ignace to Iron River. Most of the teams will be in the 14-17 age group, but there also will be some interesting competition in the younger age group of nine to 13 years, inclusive. Games will be played at the City diamond here.

Hit and Miss—Kingsford's Holy Name, U. P. softball champs, will compete in the Class A division of the state tournament at Lansing this weekend, and Squinch's Bar, of Iron Mountain, will play in the Class B bracket. . . . William Colasanti, 50, of Sault Ste. Marie, won the old timers' golf tournament at Menominee last Saturday with a low medal score of 80. . . . Stambaugh is expecting a big season in football this season, with a big, powerful and fast team that includes five 1945 regulars and a host of reserve lettermen.

The win was the defending National league champions' 16th in 20 meetings over the Giants this season.

YANKS WHIPPED IN TENTH, 7-4

Tigers Tie Count 4-All In Ninth, Then Push Across 3 Runs

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Tying the score at four-all with a run in the ninth, the Detroit Tigers punched across three runs in the 10th inning today to defeat the New York Yankees, 7 to 4.

The Yankees had come from behind to take the lead on two-run home runs by Charley Keller and Tommy Henrich in the sixth and seventh innings, but two singles and an outfield fly brought the Bengals even to send the game into overtime.

Floyd Bevens, starting Yank pitcher, walked two men with one down in the 10th, and Doc Cramer singled to score Eddie Lake and break the tie. Snuffy Stirnweiss' error gave the Tigers another run, and Hank Greenberg singled to score a third marker and drive Bevens from the mound.

It was Bevens' ninth loss against 15 victories, and Stubby Overmire, who relieved Dizzy Trout, Detroit's starting pitcher, in the ninth, received credit for victory, his fourth against six defeats.

Spider Was Fishing, Caught With Prey
Brisbane, Australia (AP) — The mystery of the missing goldfish— at Leslie Park, Warwick— has been solved and one of the murderers caught in the act. Gardeners discovered a large spider feeding on the stomach of a goldfish, two and a half inches long. The fish was wedded to a reed.
An entomologist said there have been several cases in Australia, America and Europe of spiders eating fish. The spider waits for its prey near the water's edge, darts out on its victim and bites it behind the head with its poisonous fangs. Then it secures the fish to any solid object with a fluid secretion and dines at leisure.

Spider Was Fishing, Caught With Prey
Brisbane, Australia (AP) — The mystery of the missing goldfish— at Leslie Park, Warwick— has been solved and one of the murderers caught in the act. Gardeners discovered a large spider feeding on the stomach of a goldfish, two and a half inches long. The fish was wedded to a reed.
An entomologist said there have been several cases in Australia, America and Europe of spiders eating fish. The spider waits for its prey near the water's edge, darts out on its victim and bites it behind the head with its poisonous fangs. Then it secures the fish to any solid object with a fluid secretion and dines at leisure.

ACCEPT FOUR, REJECT THREE

19 County Men Will Be Called For Induction
Next Month

Four of the nine Delta county men who received pre-induction physical examinations at Chicago last week were accepted for general military service, two for limited service and three were rejected, the local draft board was informed Tuesday.

Accepted for general military service were James J. Somlin, William G. McDermott, Harry A. Drake and Walter J. Wiecek. The two accepted for limited service were Paul Brazeau Jr. and Walfred J. Salo.

The draft board was informed by state headquarters yesterday that 18 men will be called for pre-induction examinations from Delta county in September and 19 men for induction.

Men scheduled for pre-induction examinations will leave here for Chicago on Sept. 24.

If fewer than 19 men qualified for general military service are available for induction, registrants qualified only for limited service will be acceptable, the local board was informed.

There has been no inductions in July and August.

LIKES SAILORS—Uncle Sam thinks 21-year-old Mary Lou Llewellyn, above, went a bit too far in her liking for sailors. A U. S. commissioner in Philadelphia held her in $300 bail on charges that while married to one sailor, she wed another, collecting allotments from both. She is also said to have married a merchant marine seaman. (NEA Photo.)

More Than 75% Of Property Stolen In July Is Recovered

More than 75 per cent or $382 worth of stolen property out of a total of $556 taken in five burglaries here in July was recovered, the monthly police report reveals.

Ten of 21 actual offenses investigated, including one car theft, were cleared by arrest.

There were three motor accidents involving injury, no fatalities and 22 accidents in which there was some property damage. A total of 17 traffic violations and 30 bicycle law violations were reported. There were 39 other arrests.

Other routine matters handled by the police during July include four insanity cases, investigation of 88 non-criminal cases, delivery of 18 official letters, inspecting clubs, warning motorists.

Thirty cats and 16 dogs were disposed of; ten sets of finger prints were taken and filed; 13 lost children were found; 260 operators' licenses, four dog and 60 bicycle licenses were issued.

Total number of police calls for the month was 405.

Truck for Frozen Foods Developed

Washington—Frozen foods will be able to travel to customers in outlying suburbs and rural areas without losing any of their quality-preserving chill, in a new kind of refrigerator truck, on which U. S. patent 2,406,241 has just been granted here to Willard L. Morrison of Lake Forest, Ill.

The body of the truck is divided into two parts by an aisle down the middle, which is the attendant's working space. On either side is a series of lidded cylindrical containers, within whose hollow walls the refrigerating fluid circulates. Each series is contained in a common housing, the intervening spaces being packed with glass wool or other insulating material.

Two independent refrigerating units are mounted forward at floor level. The position in the front end of the truck body is preferred, to permit air currents caused by the vehicle's motion to cool the small gasoline engines that run the compressors. It also permits easy access to the machinery for servicing and repairs.

Louisiana and Delaware are the only two states in which no natural caves have been discovered.

The V-2 rocket is 46 feet long; the Wac Corporal, developed by the U. S. Army, is 16 feet long.

Fat Man, 721 Pounds, Is Hospital Worry At Pittsburgh, Pa.

Pittsburgh—(AP)—The care and feeding of John Porter, 54, posed a weighty problem for Allegheny hospital attendants today.

The 721-pound circus "fat man" was taken off a Pennsylvania railroad train here after suffering a heart attack. It took 18 able-bodied men to get him to the hospital—nine to transfer him to an ambulance and nine more to get him into the elevator.

Porter made his weight felt immediately. The beds wouldn't fit. Finally, two cots were lashed together to support his considerable bulk.

Two nurses, instead of the usual one, are required to bathe him or roll him over whenever he wants to turn around.

His condition, the hospital said, was "pretty good." His appetite was wonderful.

"He eats the same as everyone else—only three times as much," said a nurse. "That seems to fill him up."

Fishing Contest Nears End, Only Six Days Remain

With the trout fishermen regrettably counting out the few remaining days of their fishing season, this is a good time to remind all fishermen that entries in the 1946 Daily Press Fishing Contest will close with the trout season.

Labor Day, September 2, is the last day—only six days to go.

All entries must be in the Daily Press office or be mailed early enough so that they bear a postmark not later than September 2 to be eligible.

This is the warning that you must get that big fish caught. Weigh and measure him up and fill out the entry blank right away. If you are one of the fishermen who has a blank all filled out and are waiting to see how the entries shape up, forget it and send the blank in, as only blanks received can be considered by the judges.

The contest is open to all anglers—men, women and children, who catch fish in public waters of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Visitors and residents of the peninsula have an equal chance. The prime requirement of eligibility is that the big fish be caught with hook and line by the use of legal bait. Pictures of the fish will be of help to the judges but are not essential.

There are classes for each species of fish caught by anglers. Entry blanks may be secured at the Daily Press office or by mail from the Outdoors Editor.

Oil-Fat Shortage Injuring Health

Washington—(SS)—The oil and fat shortage is having health repercussions.

In New York State numerous cases of stomach and intestinal upsets have been occurring. Health authorities ascribe them to mineral oil used as a substitute for edible oils in salad dressings.

In California patients have rushed to their doctor with frightening and embarrassing symptoms which were traced to mineral oil used in salad dressing and Italian spaghetti.

Use of mineral oil in salad dressings has now been prohibited in New York State. The U. S. Food and Drug Administration considers mineral oil salad dressings adulterated under any form of labeling. The American Medical Association today repeats its warning that taking mineral oil can seriously interfere with the absorption of carotene from which the body makes vitamin A, and of vitamin D, calcium, phosphorus and vitamin K, and that it should be used only under the supervision of a physician.

The nearest of all the stars is estimated to be about 25,000,000,000,000 miles from the earth.

Jap Crown Prince Gets U. S. Tutor, Bryn Mawr Author

Washington, Aug. 28 (AP)—The state department today announced the appointment of Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Vining, of Philadelphia as tutor for the crown prince of Japan.

A request for an American woman tutor for the crown prince was brought back from Japan by Dr. George Stoddard, chairman of the American Education Mission which visited that country in March.

Mrs. Vining is a graduate of Bryn Mawr and the author of a number of books for children.

Her husband, formerly associate director of the Extension Division of the North Carolina school, was killed in 1933 in an automobile accident.

TRAGEDY ENDS OUTING—Detroit, Aug. (AP)—A family outing in Lincoln Park ended in tragedy for the Edward H. Steinman family of Wyandotte today when four-year old Judith Ann Steinman died in a fall from the family automobile.

The father said he saw Judith Ann clinging to the door but was unable to stop the car before she lost her grip.
